State Department Note Brings About Crisis; Answer Is Anxiously Awaited

Orozco to Be Judged by Deeds Rather Than by Promises; Americans to Arm

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The State Department's forceful note to the contending factions in Mexico, warning them against any mistreatment of Americans, is believed to have brought the relations between the United States and Mexico to the critical point. This is a fair deduction from past experience and tradition of the State Department, notably and recently in the case of Cuba.

It is recalled that such warning as this preceded the Spanish-American war, culminating in the famous message of President McKinley which referred "to intolerable conditions existing at our doorway."

It still is hoped and believed by administration officials, however, that Saturday's notes will have a sobering effect on the passion of the factions and that it will not be necessary for the American government to consider drastic steps regarding Mexico. This hope led to renewed assurances from official quarters that there would be no intervention.

AWAIT ANSWER.

The next step must be taken by Mexicans either through the rebel leader, Orozco, or by President Madero, from whom some kind of an answer to the State Department's representation surely will be forthcoming.

"Actions speak louder than words," was a State Department comment today in reference to Orozco, who will be judged by his deeds rather than by his promises.

Meanwhile conditions throughout Mexico have undoubtedly become worse within the last week and State Department advices from various agencies as made public show that the area of turbulence and violence has grown to formidable proportions. Conditions in the States of Michoacan, Puebla and Morelos, forming a semi-circle closely adjoining the State of Mexico, are daily becoming worse.

Similar reports come from the States of Sonora and Sinaloa,

Hit on Head With Bat, Boy May Die

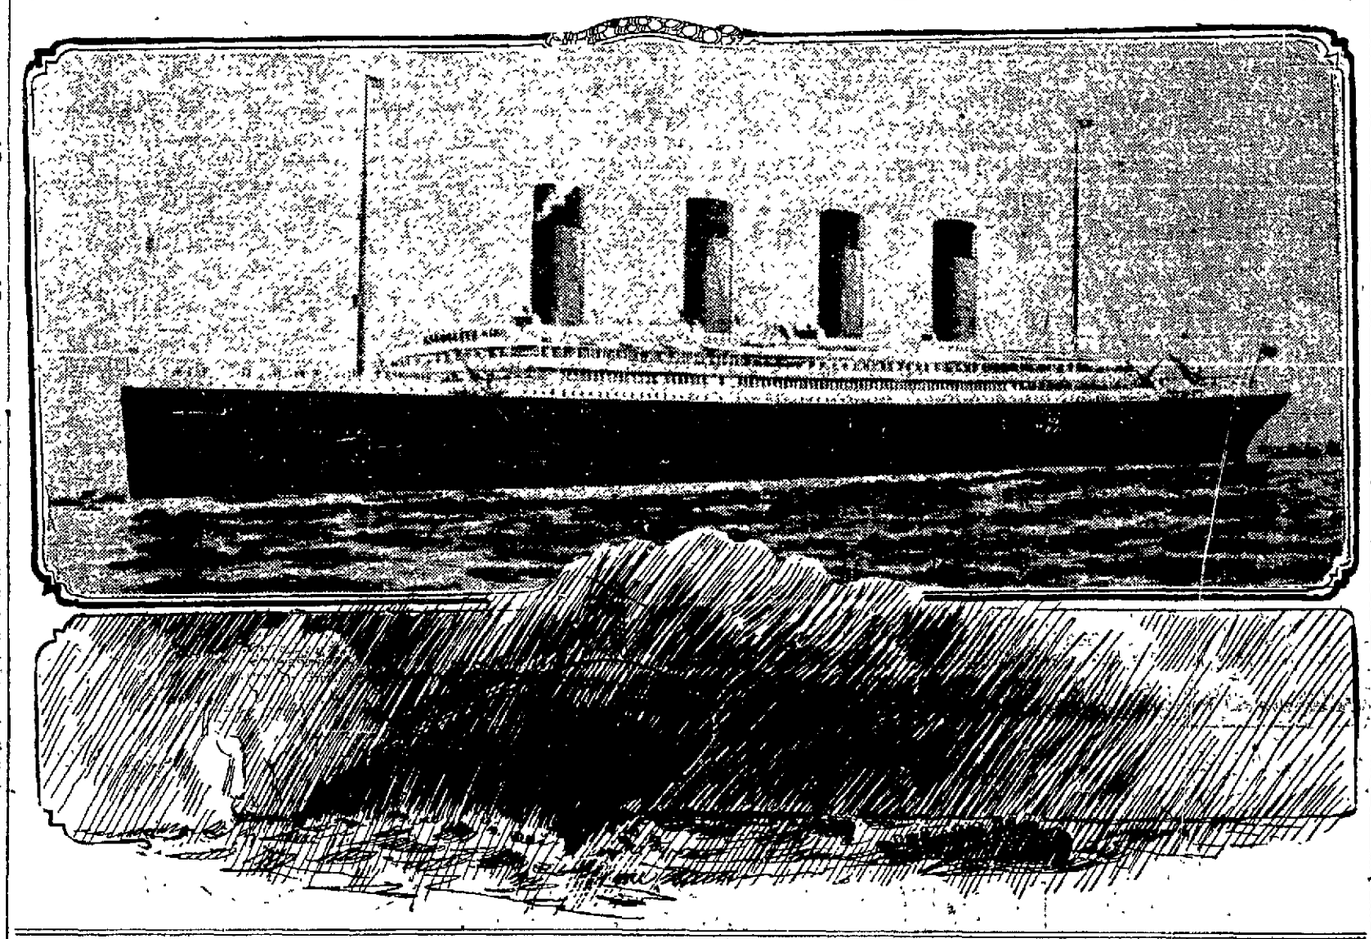

Seven-Year-Old Lad Receives a Serious Injury While Playing in Park.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15. — Struck on the head with a baseball bat swung by one of the players in a game at Point Lobos Square, George Nabini, a seven-year-old boy, of 1719 Chestnut street, received injuries from which he may not recover.

The youngster was playing in the park when the bat was thrown by Frank Cademartori, who had just made a hit and was running to first base. The heavy piece of wood struck Nabini on the head, rendering him unconscious. He was hurried to the Adler sanitarium, and after an examination was transferred to the Children's hospital. He is suffering from a possible fracture of the skull. Cademartori was arrested and was charged with battery at the North End station.

BLOODSHED IS FEARED IN CHICAGO

Troops and Police Are Called to Prevent Strife.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Though riot and bloodshed still are feared at today's Cook County Democratic Convention, the "Hearst-Harrison" faction won the first victory peaceably enough when, after the doors of the Seventh Regiment Armory had been broken down at orders from County Judge Owens, the "H-H" delegates filed into the Armory while the state troops made no resistance. While the doors were being broken down some one turned in an alarm of fire. Firemen who responded found nothing to do and returned to their quarters.

Until the arrival of Judge Owens the three factions faced each other outside the building, each armed with a court order and backed by men at arms.

The Hearst-Harrison forces depended on an order from Judge Owens directing that Election Commission Czarnecki, a Republican, preside as temporary chairman. When Czarnecki reached the Armory, however, backed by 250 bluecoats and 106 deputy sheriffs to open the convention, he was refused admittance by Captain Octagon of the 7th regiment.

REFUSED ENTRANCE.

Captain Octagon explained that as custodian of state property in the building he would permit no one to enter the building except those authorized by John McGillen, lessee of the building, as county chairman of the Democratic Committee of the convention.

The H-H faction at a nearby hall selected temporary officers and marched to the Armory and waited developments outside.

The Sullivan forces have behind them an injunction from Superior Judge Mc-

SEEK DISMISSAL OF 80 RUEF INDICTMENTS

Attorneys Make Plea Before the District Court of Appeals

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Attorney Bert Schlesinger ad George Keane, on behalf of Abraham Ruef this morning filed a petition in the District Court of Appeals for a writ of mandate to compel Superior Judge Dunne to dismiss the 80 indictments standing against him.

The application sets forth that the true bills had been pending against the former boss for five years; that he had repeatedly asked for their dismissal and no action had been taken. It is set forth that Ruef has always been ready for trial and has in fact repeatedly demanded a trial. The application goes on to say that both former District Attorney Langdon and District Attorney Fickert admit that there is not sufficient evidence to convict Ruef should he be placed on trial. The court is asked to take the same action as that followed in the cases of Patrick Calhoun, Thornwell Mullally, Tirey L. Ford and William M. Abbott, in which Superior Judge Lawlor was peremptorily ordered by the appellate court to dismiss the cases.

It is claimed in the request for the writ of mandate that Ruef has never even been arraigned on most of the indictments against him. It is alleged that he has the right to a speedy trial guaranteed him by the laws and the constitution of this state; that he has applied to Judge Dunne for a hearing and the charges but has been refused without justification of legal cause and is arbitrarily deprived of his rights.

CONVICTS RIGHTS CITED.

Teh principal point of law quoted by counsel in the petition is from the People against Keefe, a Montana decision in which it is held that the right to a speedy trial is not denied to a convict.

The petition for a writ of mandate does not ask that Judge Dunne be commanded to dispose of the cases, but that he be ordered to dismiss them. The petition is substantially the same as that filed by the attorneys of the United Railroads in the cases of Calhoun, Mullally, Ford and Abbott, save that Ruef's position as a convict now in the penitentiary is now taken into consideration.

"We believe that Mr. Ruef is being deprived of his constitutional rights," said Attorney Schlesinger this morning when speaking of the application.

"He has been for five years awaiting trial on these indictments, and on some of which he has not been arraigned. We claim that he has a constitutional right to a dismissal and the constitution admits that they haven't evidence to convict him and as they themselves have made the motion for a dismissal which is now pending in Superior Judge Dunne's court."

BOMBS EXPLODE, WRECKING N.Y. STORE

Infernal Machines Do Damage in East Side.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Three bombs were exploded early today within a short distance of each other in the Italian East Side colony.

One bomb wrecked a grocery on Twelfth street, another demolished the front of a fish store on Eleventh street and the third burst without serious damage in front of a tenement on Tenth street.

The grocer admitted to the police that he recently had received a series of threatening letters, but the fish dealer insisted that he was on good terms with all the world, and no one could be found in the Tenth street and the third burst without being a target for black hand activities. All three bombs were powerful and exploded with a concussion which shook the neighborhood for blocks, spreading panic among the awakened tenants.

Indians May Transfer Lands, Says Decision

The decision confirms thousands of conveyances.

Court Held in Hospital At Dying Woman's Bedside

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15. — Police Judge Shortall held court today at the bedside of Mrs Lillian Drake at the German hospital. The woman said to be in a dying condition and scarcely able to speak, told of a quarrel with Vernie R McPherson in Dunn's cafe, Turk and Taylor street, after which she swallowed poison.

McPherson has been arrested and charged with a statutory offense. The evidence was heard by the court in the ward of the hospital. McPherson has a wife and family living at 1382 Alice street Oakland. It is because he is suspected of being a white slaver that the authorities are exercising such care in collecting evidence against him.

Surgeon Inoculated With 'Gas Bacilli;' Dies a Martyr

BOSTON, April 15.—Inoculated with "gas bacilli" of which he has been making a scientific study, Dr. Louis Nelson, an instructor in the Harvard medical school, died at the Elliot hospital a martyr to his profession. He was 34 years old. For nearly a year Dr. Nelson has been making a special investigation of a recently discovered "gas bacillus" believed to generate gases in the human system. While engaged in this laboratory work two months ago he became inoculated and grew steadily worse. At the hospital it was found the bacilli had produced intestinal inflammation too severe to admit of an operation.

Monster of Ocean Badly Damaged by Collision With Iceberg; Many Notables on List

Wireless Calls for Help Crash Out in Night, Calling Greyhounds of Sea to Stand By

BULLETIN

HALIFAX, N. S., April 15. — The Canadian government marine agency here at 4:15 p. m. received a wireless dispatch that the Titanic is sinking. The message came via the cable ship Minia off Cape Race. It is said the vessels towing the Titanic were endeavoring to get her into shoal water near Cape Race to beach her.

BULLETIN.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Vice-President Franklin of the White Star Line said at 4 o'clock that he had definite information that all the passengers had been transferred from the Titanic. He had received nothing, however, indicating the extent of the damage to the liner.

WIRELESS dispatches up to noon today showed that the passengers of the White Star liner Titanic, which struck an iceberg off the Newfounland coast last night, were transferred aboard the steamer Carpathia, a Cunarder. Already twenty boatloads had been transferred, and, allowing forty to sixty persons as the capacity of each lifeboat, some 800 or 1200 passengers was transferred.

Latest reports indicate that the transferrence was being carried on safely. The sea is smooth and the weather calm. It is probable that all passengers of the Titanic are safe.

The Titanic was the largest steamer ever built. She is 882 feet long and has 46,328 tons displacement. She was launched last May and this was her maiden trip.

MANY NOTABLES ON BOARD.

Among the passengers are Colonel and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Major Archibald Butt, military aide to President Taft; F. D. Millet, the artist; Mr. and Mrs. Isador Strauss, J. G. Widener of Philadelphia, President Hays of the Grand Trunk Railway, J. B. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star Line; W. T. Stead and others.

The liner carried 1400 passengers and a crew of 800. Another liner, the Parisian, of the Allan Company which sailed from Glasgow for Halifax on April 6, is already close at hand and is assisting in the work of rescuing.

The Baltic and Virginian also are near the scene and the Olympic apparently is near at hand, as the wireless information concerning the transfer comes from Captain Haddock of the Olympic. The accident occurred at 10:25 last night, about 400 miles south of Cape Race, Newfoundland, and about 1100 miles east of New York.

News of Vessel's Disaster Shocks Shipping World

NEW YORK, April 15.—A wireless message from the Titanic received shortly after midnight announced the liner had struck an iceberg off the banks of Newfoundland and was in a sinking condition. Transfer of the passengers to the life boats begin at once. The accident occurred at 10:25 o'clock last night. Two hours later the ship's wireless apparatus, which had been working so badly as to permit of only intermittent and fragmentary messages, failed completely.

The last words by the operator told that the vessel was apparently doomed, "sinking by the head," and that the women passengers were being rushed into the life boats. A reassuring feature was that the weather was cald and clear, and help only a few hours away.

VIRGINIAN HEARS CALL.

The Titanic's first S. O. S. message was received by the Allan Liner Virginian, which, according to the position given by the Titanic's operator was not more than 170 miles away. The captain of the Virginian at once started his boat at full speed for the scene of the disaster announcing to his brother officers on the bridge of the Titanic that the Virginian should reach him by 10 o'clock this morning.

The Titanic accident happened in latitude 41 46 north, longitude 50 14, west. This point is about 1150 miles due east of New York city and 460 miles south of Cape Race, N. F., wireless station. All the messages from the ship were relayed to the Cape Race wireless station by the Virginian and forwarded by the Marconi Company to New York city.

The Titanic's twin ship, the Olympic, which left New York last week, was also in direct communication with the sinking boat from a point about 300 miles away and started at once for the scene.

The Titanic, which is on her maiden trip, is in charge of Captain Smith, who was on the bridge of the big Olympic when that boat collided with the British cruiser Hawke last September.

NOTABLE PASSENGERS.

The Titanic carries 1470 passengers, of whom 310 are in the first cabin and 262 in the second cabin. The passenger list is a noteworthy one, including Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Alfred G. Wynn Vanderbilt, Major Archibald Butt, aide to President Taft; F. D. Millett, the artist; Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Strauss, J. G. Widener of Philadelphia; J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star line; C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk railway, Benjamin Guggenheim, W. T. Stead and others.

Steamship men here today characterized the disaster as the most startling news which has come in from

TO CHANGE PLANS OF CITY LIGHTING

Council Acts on Request of Company; to Alter Specifications.

Acting upon the request of the Central Oakland Light and Power company that all proceedings for letting contracts for street lighting and the lighting of public buildings be rescinded on the ground that the specifications were so drawn as to eliminate competitive bidding, the city council this morning rescinded the resolutions covering the matter, and directed City Electrician George Babcock to draw new specifications.

Only one bid was received by the city council this morning for city lighting for the fiscal year 1912-1913, when the matter was called A communication from the Central Oakland Light and Power company explained that only one company could bid

The council decided to rescind proceedings and local Manager Frank A Leach Jr., was allowed to withdraw the single bid offered, that of the Pacific Gas, Light and Heat company.

The failure to obtain competitive bids is charged to accidental features of the specifications, upon which attorneys placed a rigid construction

Manager M H. Gregg for the Central Oakland concern will take up these points with Babcock in drafting the new specifications.

F. H. Woodward, manager for the Oakland division of the Great Western Power company explained that his company had not entered a bid because the Oakland city charter limits such contracts to one year, and the company officials considered that the investment prerequisite to entering upon such a contract with the city would be too great in comparison with the return for a one year contract

The communication from the Central Oakland Light and Power company follows:

REASONS FOR ACTION.

"City Council. Gentlemen: The specifications for proposals for lighting of the public streets and buildings of Oakland during the fiscal year 1912-1913 as called for are so constructed and worded that competitive bids are eliminated, due to the following reasons:

"The five sections into which the city is divided have been so outlined as to make it possible for only one company to bid for the lighting of any entire section.

"The sixth section of said specifications calls for bids for lighting of public buildings located in five different sections with gas and electricity. In this case, it is necessary that any company bidding for the lighting of these buildings must be able also to supply gas.

The sections into which the city is divided have been so outlined that it is possible for only one company to make a bid for the serving of light or power to public buildings and public departments due to the scattered locations, and the fact that a bid must be made for all the buildings within a section and not for an individual one.

"H. H. GREGG, Manager."

"Very truly yours,

MOOSE HOLD MEMORIAL EXERCISES

IMPOSING CEREMONY MARKS DAY

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY W. H. L. HYNES, who delivered the eulogy at the Moose Memorial Service yesterday.

Honor Paid the Dead by Prominent Oaklanders; Program Is Impressive

With impressive exercises Oakland Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, yesterday held its annual memorial services in honor of the departed members. Moose hall was fittingly arranged for the occasion, flowers and crape being present in profusion. The hall was taxed to its capacity to accommodate those who attended

After escorting their families and friends to seats in the hall the members assembled in the club rooms and promptly at 2 p. m., preceded by the officers in full regalia, marched in solemn column to the hall to the strains of an impressive dirge played by the organist.

Dictator J Treager opened the services and in conjunction with the other officers exemplified the ritualistic work of the order.

An elaborate musical and vocal program was rendered and stirring orations were delivered by the Rev. E P. Dempsey, Judge George Samuels and W. H. L. Hynes.

"We do not take life seriously enough," said Father Dempsey, "and the great facts of existence do not impress us with the force that they should Every man must face certain problems, yet we all lose sight of them as frequently as possible and dodge the issue.

GOOD TO HONOR DEAD.

"It is a fine thing for us to assemble at intervals as we have today, for the consideration of one of the greatest and most serious things—immortality This may be discussed from two points of view—the theological and the philosophical. It is from the latter aspect that I wish to speak.

"There is the immortality of the soul and the immortality of glory or fame For a belief in the everlasting continuity of the soul we need call only upon plain common sense and reason We gather on a common ground when we join in memory of those who have gone before us into the unknown. We believe each and every one of us that though dead, they still live. They exist in another world that knows not time or space."

Judge Samuels made an eloquent appeal to the members to forget self and enlist in the cause of broad humanity.

"We should forget the frailties of mankind and remember the good and the virtuous attributes of humanity in general," said Judge Samuels, "and we should cast aside all selfish thoughts and desires when dealing with our fellow beings and enlist under the banner of one grand brotherhood of man."

DELIVERS EULOGY.

W. H L. Hynes delivered a splendid eulogy on fraternalism and urged every one to endeavor to live, up to the principles of and uphold the laws of every worthy fraternal body, and thereby assist in the great work for which fraternal societies have been created

FAVERSHAM HERE IN ORIGINAL PLAY

"The Faun" Will Prove Relief for Those Weary of Hackneyed.

William Faversham, who will present Edward Knoblauch's brilliant comedy, "The Faun," at the Macdonough tonight, has proved, since becoming his own manager, that he is not afraid of a dramatic novelty. It is an axiom of the theater that the public is slow to accept anything that departs radically from the conventional The truth of the matter is, that the average play-goer has long ago surfeited the customary common-place, shallow offering, and cries out for something new, novel and meritious.

Knoblauch's comedy, "The Faun," needs such a cry, for it is one of the most original and amusing plays that has been known to the stage of our time Faversham's impersonaton of a faun or woodgod, who defies the outdoor world and the joy of living—is a distinct departure from anything that this popular actor—or any other—has attempted in recent years Despite the fact that the characterization is entirely new to the annuals of the stage, its execution is remarkable for its imaginativ clarity and supple effectiveness Although "The Faun" keeps the auditor in roars of laughter throughout its progress, it also drives home many keen shafts of truth that keep him thinking long after he has left the theater.

Faversham's own highly successful efforts in this engaging play are ably supplemented by the clever work of Julia Opp and the rest of his very efficient company.

COURTS IN CLASH OVER CONVENTION

Chicago Democratic Session Marked by Scenes of Strife and Disorder.

Kinley restraining the police, the election commission and the sheriff from interferring with the convention Each faction ignores the court order of the other and several times clashes between troops inside the building and the police seemed imminent

BACKED BY COURT.

Both the militiamen and the police were backed by court orders. The guardsmen are upheld by a restraining order issued by Judge M McKinley last night against the ruling of County Judge John E Owens who appointed Flection Commissioner C. Sarnecki a Republican, to organize the convention The battle for control of the convention was scheduled to be waged on one side by the Roger Sullivan forces and on the other by the Hearst-Harrison followers

It was announced that the police might be supplanted by deputy sheriffs if necessary to assist in carrying out the orders of Judge Owens Copies of the injunction issued by Judge McKinley appeared on the doors of the convention hall and on posts and trees nearby

The Republican convention was scheduled to meet at the same time in the First Regiment Armory In this no trouble was expected Two hundred and fifty patrolmen were sent to the Seventh Regiment Armory where the Democratic county convention is to be held They formed a cordon around the building to await the arrival of the delegates and officers of the convention Eight hundred patrolmen are being held in reserve at south side stations In addition a large force of deputy sheriffs was sent to the convention hall to assist in preserving order

IGNORES McKINLEY

Sheriff Michael Zimmer was at his office in the county building shortly after 7 o'clock and personally instructed the deputies

"Upon advice of my attorney, I have decided to ignore Judge McKinley's order," Sheriff Zimmer said 'I will act as if the order had never been issued and will follow the instructions of County Judge Owens I have sent all my available deputies to the convention hall, but will not swear in any special deputies for the reason I do not think they will be needed."

At noon County Judge Owens appeared at the armory and demanded that the doors be opened On being refused he ordered the police to break in the doors Assistant Chief of Police Schuttler then began battering down the door with an ax.

TWO CONVENTIONS.

Three hours delay was experienced today in calling the convention to order, and the disturbance finally resulted in two conventions, one faction known as the Hearst-Harrison forces and the other the followers of Roger C Sullivan, national Democratic committeeman.

She Victory, if there was a victory, went to the Hearst-Harrison faction, which with the aid of the police and reinforced by the direct orders of County Judge Owens, battered down the doors of the Seventh Regiment Armory, in spite of the refusal of the militamen to open, and took their seats

The roll of delegates was called by Commissioner Czarnecki, and a list of delegates to the state convention was prepared for approval of the delegates in the hall.

Under the leadership of John McGillen, chairman of the Cook County Democratic Central Committee, the Sullivan delegates to the convention went to another hall to hold their convention

With two sets of delegates elected to the state convention at Peoria, April 19, the convention there will be obliged to decide which faction is rightfully seated

After the police entered the Armory, Captain Octagon was arrested and taken to Judge Owens' chambers the sea since the advent of wireless telegraphy"

The first heard of the accident was about 1 o'clock this morning, when a bulletin from Montreal stated that the Allan Line offices here had received a wireless from Captain Gambell of the steamer Virginian stating that the Titanic was calling for assistance after a collision with an iceberg. The Virginian's captain added he was heading his boat for the Titanic, whose position was said to be about 350 miles south of Cape Race, N. F.

IMMEDIATE ASSISTANCE.

Immediately inquiry by the Associated Press in an urgent despatch to the Marconi station at Cape Race was answered soon afterward with the following words

"At 10.25 last night the steamer Titanic called 'C. Q. D.' and reports having struck an iceberg The steamer said that immediate assistance was required. Half an hour afterwards another message came reporting they were sinking by the head and that women were being put off in the life boats

"The weather was calm and clear, the Titanic's wireless operator reported, and he gave the position of the vessel as 41.46 north latitude and 50.14 west longitude. The Marconi station at Cape Race notified the Allan Liner Virginian, the captain of which immediately answered that he was proceeding for the scene of the disaster.

"The Virginian at midnight was about 170 miles from the Titanic and expected to reach that vessel about 10 a. m. today.

"The Olympic at midnight was in latitude 40 32 north and longitude 61.18 west. She was in direct communication with the Titanic and is now making all haste toward her. The steamship Baltic also reported herself as about 200 miles east of the Titanic at 1:15 a. m., and making all possible speed to warn her.

"The last signals from the Titanic were heard by the Virginian at 12 27 a. m The wireless operator on the Virginian says these signals were blurred and ended abruptly."

BIGGEST IN WORLD.

The Titanic is the biggest boat in the world. She has on board more than 2000 persons—1470 passengers and a crew of about 860 men. A large percentage, if not the majority of the passengers are Americans.

The newspaper offices were beseiged early today by inquiry from hundreds of persons shocked by the fragmentary newspaper dispatches seen at the breakfast tables, but in the early morning hours there was nothing vital to add to the alarming reports from Cape Race Something further was expected every moment, but there was nothing at hand to relieve the anxiety shown in every quarter.

Vice-president P. A. S. Franklin of the International Merchant Marine, the highest official of the White Star line here, was one of the first to be notified of the reported disaster, but it was only through the Associated Press that he learned of it, and for hours thereafter he could only express his astonishment at the news and his doubt that such a large and thoroughly protected ship as the Titanic could be in danger at sea

Upon hearing the first reports he spoke reassuringly, saying that only eight or ten hours before the White Star office had received a wireless giving the liner's position. He was sure if she had met with any accident he would have heard from her promptly.

CLAIMED UNSINKABLE.

"We are absolutely satisfied that even if she was in collision with an iceberg, she is in no danger," he said. "With her numerous watertight compartments she is absolutely unsinkable and it makes no difference what she hit. The report should not cause any serious anxiety"

When the more serious news came from Cape Race a little later Franklin qualified his statement with the hope that the reports were not true. He doubted that they could be correct

At 7 30 a. m, the White Star Line office still had only the newspaper reports of the disaster. They felt assured that whatever the situation there was this reassuring feature that at least three liners had reported themselves in touch with the Titanic, that all of them were steaming toward her and that an unusually large number of other large ships were within the zone of wireless communication

Franklin also said, after giving out the formal statement, that they figured the boat was 1081 miles from New York and 800 miles from Halifax He added that no direct communication has been received from the liner Franklin, said he had received a brief wireless despatch from the Olympic saying she had talked by wireless with the Titanic at 4 24 o'clock this morning The message gave no further information This message shows conclusively that the Titanic was still afloat six hours after the reported accident. The officers of the Titanic are Captain J. E Smith, commander, surgeon, W F N. O'Loughlin, assistant surgeon, J E Simpson, purser, H. W. McElroy; second purser, R. L Brocker; chief steward, A Latimer.

PASSENGERS SAFE.

An hour later Franklin authorized the following statement

"No alarm for Titanic's passengers"

Franklin said that while no direct message from the Titanic had been received at the office, the officials were perfectely satisfied there was no cause for alarm

They do not regard the cessation of the ship's wireless messages as denoting anything serious, as this might have been caused by atmospheric disturbances or other cause. The Titanic is well able to withstand almost any exterior damage and could keep afloat almost indefinitely after being struck

"The Titanic now is in latitude 41.46 north and longitude 50.14 west," said Franklin "She is being approached from the west by the Olympic of the White Star line which should be alongside by 8 p m today"

The Baltic of the same line, which was east of the Titanic on its way to Europe has turned back and probably will be alongside by 4 p. m. The Virginian of the Allan Line, eastward bound, is reported as rapidly approaching and should be on the spot by 10 o'clock this morning.

The Olympic has just been reported as having been in direct communication by wireless with the Titanic

Franklin was most emphatic in his assurances regarding the safety of the passengers and the steamer. He said he had computed the time mentioned in the foregoing statement by Atlantic time, which is one hour ahead of the eastern time

Steamers Battle With Icebergs on Trip Over Atlantic

NEW YORK, April 15.—Twenty-five icebergs, one of which was 250 feet high, were encountered in a sea of ice miles in length by the steamship Carmania of the Cunard line, which arrived yesterday While the steamship was plowing through the ice at reduced speed and dodging icebergs the wireless operators picked up a message that stated that the steamship Niagara of the French line was having trouble in the ice zone The Niagara was found an hour later with several of her forward plates sprung by the ice They were above the water line, so the captain said he needed no assistance.

The field of ice was reached Thursday afternoon. It took four hours to run through it.

Captain Thomas Fermor Hesketh, whose elder brother, Frederick Fermor Hesketh, has been missing and reported found in Montana, was a passenger on board the Carmania with his wife, who was Miss F. Breckinridge of San Francisco. A wireless message had been sent to Captain Hesketh, stating that his brother had been found, but later he received dispatches saying no trace of Frederick had been discovered. He thinks his brother, who left England eighteen months ago will show up all right

Declares Forceful Impact Necessary to Sink Titanic

BELFAST, Ireland, April 15.—A representative of Harland and Wolff, the constructors of the Titanic, when interviewed today said that if the Titanic was sinking the collision must have been of great force. The plating of the vessel, he said, was of the heaviest calibre and even if it were pierced, any two of her compartments could be flooded without imperiling the ship.

AGED PROSPECTOR HAS FIRST RAILROAD RIDE

He came from Kentucky in 1855, going direct to the mines in Trinity county He made several fortunes but lost them all through misfortune Reed is well informed but has never had any desire to travel since he spent six months in driving an ox team across the plains.

The President also gave his consent to the exportation of 400 rifles, 120,000 cartridges and many miscellaneous gun parts for the Mexican government

KEEPS NEWS QUIET.

EL PASO, April 15.—If the government warning had been received by American Consul Letche at Chichuahua he was keeping the matter secret this forenoon or the rebel censor had suppressed the news The press dispatch received this afternoon from Chihuahua makes no mention of it.

Marian Letcher, wife of the consul and her two children were among twenty American and other foreign refugees who arrived here today.

They left Chihuahua yesterday morning at which time the warning delivered to the Mexican people by the United States government had not been received. The Americans declared that relations between the rebels and Americans in the war zone are so strained as to make it the part of discretion to leave

The Mexican colony here read the government's warning with gloom and expressed the opinion that only a decisive federal victory could ward off international complications.

General Huerta, the federal commander-in-chief is reported to have arrived at Mapimi, where the main force of government troops is mobilized, at 10 o'clock last night.

A telegram from President Madero to one of his relatives here was received today in which the Mexican president declared that he realized that the dilatory methods, of the campaign this far were creating antagonistic sentiment and that from now on the fight against the revolutionists would be pushed with all possible vigor.

DISBROW BURNS UP TRACK

The two big racing cars which shattered many world's records yesterday at San Jose. On the left is the 200-horsepower Jay Eye See and on the right the 100-horsepower simplex, Zip, which captured every mark up to 25 miles. The two cars will be seen in Oakland on April 20 and 21, in the Shriners' race meet to be held on the Oakland Motordrome.

King Pin of Crack Drivers to Race Here This Week

In the greatest speed-making contest the west has seen in years, Louis Disbrow, the king pin of all track drivers, who is to race here this Saturday and Sunday at the Shriners' meet on the Oakland Motordrome, broke all the world's dirt track records up to twenty-five miles at the San Jose driving park in San Jose yesterday. The former time which was held for nearly two years by Barney Oldfield was considerably reduced, in daring exhibition of skill, on a track in anything but good shape. Had weather conditions favored the trial the old mark would have been greatly shattered.

The big Jay Eye See made sensational speed against untold difficulties, but was unable to equal its showing made at San Diego two weeks ago. The Case White Streak, the Little Giant Case and the Case Bullet performed in a spectacular manner and a victory was chalked up to each. Nikrent and Whalen drove the Case racers and displayed enough class in the various events to warrant their being closely watched in the coming Shriners' races.

Earl Cooper with his Stutz sprung a surprise on the knowing ones in the five-mile handicap affair by giving Disbrow in the Simplex a close rub. Cooper had the advantage of a fifteen-second handicap and was in the lead for more than four laps, only to lose out in the last half-mile to the older and more tried pilot.

On the whole, the meet was a well-conducted affair, attended by one of the largest crowds which have ever been present in an afternoon at the San Jose Driving Park. Close to 100 automobile parties alone made the journey from this city.

SUMMARY OF RACES.

The summary of the races is as follows:

One mile, against time, Class E, unofficial—Won by Disbrow, Simplex Zip; Joe Nikrent, Case Bullet, second; Whalen, Case White Streak, third. Time, 54 2-5 seconds.

Five miles, Class C, non-stock, 231-300 cubic inches—Won by Nikrent, Case Bullet; Louis Disbrow, Case White Streak, second. Time, 5:24 3-5.

Five-mile match race—Won by Whalen, Case Little Giant; Nikrent, Case Bullet, second. Time, 5:23 2-5.

Exhibition mile—Disbrow driving Jay Eye See, 200 horsepower. Time, 55 seconds.

Free for all handicap, five miles. Class D—Won by Disbrow, scratch, Simplex Zip; Earl Cooper, Stutz, 15 seconds, second; Nikrent, Case Bullet, 30 seconds, third. Time, 5:03 4-5.

Exhibition mile—Disbrow driving Jay Eye See. Time, 54 3-5 seconds.

Class E, world's record trials—Disbrow driving Simplex Zip against 15, 20 and 25-mile records, held by Barney Oldfield in the 100 horsepower Darracq, made at Milwaukee September 27, 1910. Time for 15 miles, 13:30; Oldfield's time, 13:41.

Time for 20 miles, 17:57 2-5; Oldfield's time, 18:15.

Time for 25 miles, 22:26 3-5; Oldfield's time, 22:47.

The Jay Eye See was towed up to this city from San Jose this morning and is now being carefully guarded in one of the local garages. Within the next day it will be taken out to the Motordrome for its first tryouts.

TO BE TRIED OUT.

Tomorrow morning at least half a dozen cars will be tried out and from then on the local board speedway will fairly hum from the vibration of the thundering motor cars rumbling over it at speeds varying from 75 to 100 miles an hour.

The committee of Shriners in charge of the races have worked for the last two weeks with unrelaxed vigor attending to the thousand and one little details in connection with the promotion of an affair of this kind. They have accomplished considerable at the Motordrome alone. The subway has been improved by deepening and widening it so that now cars of any size can pass through without difficulty. The infield has been carefully groomed and rolled and is in ideal condition for the spectators who will watch the races from that point.

Word of some kind is expected soon from Fred Wagner, official starter of every big race run in this country. Wagner is classed by himself and his presence at any automobile affair assures the conduct of it in speedy order and without delay.

TO HANDLE CROWDS.

The various transportation companies are devoting some little time to planning for adequately handling the crowds both from this city and San Francisco. Extra train service to and from the grounds with street cars running on a schedule of close to one minute headway will afford accommodations to successfully cope with a difficulty experienced in former affairs promoted at the Motordrome.

The decision of the Shriners' managing committee to allow automobiles into the infield without extra charge is another provision which will help insure the success of the races. The parking of machines outside the grandstand has proved an inconvenience in the past and a great deal of dissatisfaction arose because of this action. The events of each afternoon will be started early and will be run off without any unnecessary intervening waiting periods.

UNITED STATES ISSUES WARNING TO MEXICO

Republic Notified That American Life and Property Must Be Protected

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—That the United States "expects and must demand that American life and property within the republic of Mexico be justly and adequately protected, and that this government must hold Mexico and the Mexican people responsible for all wanton or illegal acts sacrificing or endangering American life or damaging American property or interests" is the warning issued by the United States to the Mexican government, as well as to General Orozco, chief of the revolutionary forces.

The correspondence made public last night is admittedly the strongest demand the United States is known to have made upon Mexico for respectful treatment of Americans as well as of other foreigners and declares that a continuation of illegal acts is tending to create difficulties and obligations which it is to the interests of all true Mexican patriots, as it is the desire of the United States to avoid.

TELEGRAPH EMBASSADOR.

The instructions to Embassador Wilson, sent by telegraph, follow:

"You will immediately communicate the following to the Minister of Foreign Affairs:

"'The enormous destruction, constantly increasing, of valuable American properties in the course of the present unfortunate disturbances, the taking of American life, contrary to the principles governing such matters among all civilized nations; the increasing dangers to which all American citizens in Mexico are subjected, and the seemingly possible indefinite continuance of this unfortunate situation compels the government of the United States to show that it expects and must demand that American life and property within the limits of Mexico be justly and adequately protected, and that this government must hold Mexico and the Mexican people responsible for all wanton or illegal acts sacrificing or endangering American life or damaging American property or interests there.

WORKING AGAINST OWN INTERESTS

"'Meanwhile it should be apparent to all sections of the Mexican people that those who spread baseless rumors or provoke just resentment by attacks upon Americans or other foreign persons or property, are working against the best interests and the honor of their country, for which the United States is known to hold, and in the present grave situation is manifesting the greatest and most sincere friendship, and are seeking for their selfish ends to burden the future of their countrymen with heavy obligations of enormous damage for their wrongful acts.

"'How strongly the government of the United States deprecates even the very few cases of participation by its citizens in the present insurrectionary disturbances is well known to the people of Mexico and was shown by the President's proclamation of March 2d and the various other acts of this country.

Government looking to the same end. The government of the United States must insist and demand that American citizens who may be taken prisoners, whether by one party or the other, as participants in the present insurrectionary disturbances, shall be dealt with in accordance with the broad principles of equitable justice and humanity as well as in accordance with the principles of international law which may be involved and to which the people of Mexico have given their assent and adherence in numerous international engagements.

"'This government must hold the Mexican people strictly responsible for any departure from such principles.

"'Notwithstanding press reports that certain Mexican officers have announced a contrary policy, the government of the United States has every confidence in the disposition of the government of Mexico in the premises and must request that appropriate instructions be immediately issued to the proper military officers and officials in the sense indicated.'

"Letcher reports receiving a letter from Orozco which states that in view of non-recognition of belligerency on the part of the United States, the insurrectionary heads would refuse to recognize consular representations of the United States and that henceforth he should not address the military leader of the insurrection in behalf of this government."

CONSUL LETCHER INFORMED.

"The department is sending Letcher a copy of the instructions quoted, is directing him to deliver a copy to Orozco, with a statement that it sets forth the attitude which must be assumed by this government and directing him to make further representations as follows:

"'The government and the people of the United States have viewed with grave concern the practical murder under the positive order of one of your chief Lieutenants of an American citizen who is reported to have been taken prisoner during or at the end of a regular engagement, the prisoner said to have been dressed in regular uniform and obviously one of the regular forces of the established government of Mexico.

"'The government of the United States must insist insofar as the treatment of American citizens taken prisoners by whatever force is concerned, that the rules and principles accepted by civilized nations as controlling their actions in time of war shall be followed and observed and the government of the United States must give notice that any deviation from such a course and, indeed, any maltreatment of any American citizens will be deeply resented by the American government and people and must be fully answered for by the Mexican people thus tending to difficulties and obligations which it is to the interest of all true Mexican patriots as it is the desire of the United States, to avoid.'

WARNING ISSUED.

"You will also call this to the attention of the Minister of Foreign Affairs and will at the same time point out that the press reports received here state that General Villa has threatened that if Orozco murders American citizens taken prisoners from the federals, he will retaliate by murdering American citizens taken prisoners from the rebels. You will, while pointing out the utter inhumanity of such action, call attention to the fact that retaliation if it is invoked by the federal forces, should certainly never be used against American citizens.

"HUNTINGTON WILSON."

Besides a copy of the foregoing correspondence to be shown to Orozco, the instructions to Consul Letcher include the following:

"You will immediately informally and unofficially present this matter to Orozco according to above instructions, and you will at the same time point out that, being an American consul charged with the protection of American citizens and interests in Mexico, and holding an exquatur from the Mexican government as representing the Mexican people, you are instructed by your government informally to say that you must continue to exercise your functions and to make representations whenever occasion demands.

"HUNTINGTON WILSON."

EVILS OF ALCOHOL SCORED BY PASTOR

Pittsburg Clergyman Presents Vital Statistics as Arguments.

PITTSBURG, April 15. — Rev. John N. Underwood of Pittsmurb addressed a temperance rally last night, held in connection with the Columbia Union conference of Seventh Day Adventists. Concerning the evils of alcohol, he said that 3600 wives are killed every year with revolvers, hatchets, knives, clubs and other weapons; that 2500 babies are killed by drunken fathers, who fall into bed and crush their lives out; that 90 out of 100 divorces are caused by liquor; that 180,000 men and women go insane every year; that it costs the country $21,329,228 annually to care for the insane from drink and $37,542,736 to prosecute those who have become criminals from the same cause.

Rev. Underwood stated that a procession 73 miles long marched into their graves every year. The money spent for liquor last year, he said, would make a pile of silver dollars 2367 miles high.

27 GET TYPHOID FROM THIS MAN

Acme's Winch-Driver Outdoes the Record of "Typhoid Mary."

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 15. — In the person of H. Olson, winch driver on the lumber schooner Acme, the State hygienic laboratory at the university has discovered a transmitter of the dread fever whose record surpasses that of "Typhoid Mary," the famous New York character, whose accomplishments in this regard the papers of the country exploited some years ago. Twenty-seven cases of typhoid have been laid at Olson's door, of which four resulted in death.

What a danger he was to those with whom he came in contact in one way or another Olson has never suspected. With the whole case proved to him he has resigned his position aboard the Acme and entered quarantine under the State Board of Health.

The steamer Acme is owned by the A. W. Beadle company and plies between San Francisco and Eureka in the lumber trade. The Marine hospital service, classifying the cases of different diseases that came under its notice according to their source, found that 26 cases of the disease had originated on the Acme. The attention of the State Board of Health was called to the matter, which in turn asked an investigation by the State hygienic laboratory of which Dr. W. A. Sawyer is director. The owners of the vessel lending every possible aid, even to the paying of hospital bills, the laboratory began its investigations.

The water and food supplies were quickly eliminated as sources of contamination and the search then began for a carrier of the disease. The captain, engineer and winch driver were the three men who had been longest in the crew and these were examined one after the other at the Roosevelt hospital in this city. The captain and engineer and a few others of the crew were easily eliminated, but the examination of the winch driver, Olson, established the fact that he was a carrier of the disease and that its deadly germs lurked in his system.

Besides the 26 cases of the disease originating on the Acme, a previous case is on record originating on another vessel where Olson was a member of the crew and which is directly traceable to him. Of these 27, four have resulted in death. "Typhoid Mary's" record was 26 cases, one resulting fatally.

The methods by which Olson transmitted the disease have been practically ascertained by the State hygienic laboratory. The members of the crew were accustomed to drinking from barrels, which were used also by him. The germs were transmitted by him to this drinking supply and thence to his fellows in the crew. At the conclusion of the investigation Olson was informed of his dangerous condition and at once accepted isolation. He is now in quarantine under State Board of Health supervision, having resigned his position aboard the Acme on which he had sailed for many years.

DRIFTS HELPLESS IN HYDROPLANE

Inventor Frey Rescued When Chain on Machine Breaks.

Rendered helpless when his driving chain broke, Eugene Frey of 559 Sixteenth street, inventor of a hydroplane in which he has been a familiar figure on Lake Merritt and the estuary, failed to cross the bay yesterday in what was expected to be a spectacular trip in the machine. The inventor was speedily rescued by a passing launch and towed to shore, where the chain was quickly replaced, although too late to continue the trip across the bay.

After cruising about on the upper estuary yesterday morning Frey started for San Francisco shortly before noon. When about half way down the estuary the chain suddenly broke, falling into the water and rendering Frey's progress impossible. The machine drifted a few minutes when a launch appeared and the hydroplane was taken ashore, for repairs, after which the inventor continued his journey on the waters but in the direction of East Oakland, where the machine is housed.

Frey plans to attempt the trip again on the first calm day. He declares his mishap of yesterday at no time placed him in danger.

MERIT IN MEDICINE

The continued success of a medicine depends entirely upon its merit. For nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been demonstrating its worth among women, as the greatest of all remedies for female ills, and the tremendous volume of letters on file in the Pinkham laboratory, at Lynn, Mass., from grateful women in all parts of the United States and Canada, are ample proof of its merit.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a good, old-fashioned remedy and enormous quantities of roots and herbs are used every year in making it the standard remedy for female ills.

ALL WRONG

The Mistake Is Made by Many Oakland Citizens.

Don't mistake the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure. Backache is kidney ache.

You must cure the kidneys.

An East Oakland resident tells you how.

J. D. Evans, 1016 East Fourteenth street, East Oakland, Cal., says: "No remedy deserves stronger indorsement than Doan's Kidney Pills. In my case they certainly worked wonders and I am glad at this time to confirm all I said in their praise when I publicly recommended them in August, 1907. I trust that the repeating of these facts will be the means of inducing other kidney sufferers to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. A slight backache was the first symptom of kidney complaint in my case, but the trouble steadily grew worse until it became almost unbearable. Sharp twinges in my loins caused me great suffering and at night I could scarcely get any rest on account of too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. In the morning I was tired and worn out and there was a swelling under my eyes. Dizzy spells annoyed me and my health was all run down. Nothing helped me until I began the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. I give this remedy the entire credit for restoring me to good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

KELLOGG SHOWS WONDERS OF NATURE AT ORPHEUM

CHARLES KELLOGG, nature singer, at Oakland Orpheum, who warbles like birds of the wilds.

Charles Kellogg, the "Nature Singer" at the Oakland Orpheum, finds it more difficult to prove that he is not a marvel than he does to drive home his scientific arguments For instance, he makes a gas flame obey the will of his voice, or rather of the vibrations of his voice. A tuning fork, of the proper pitch and number of vibrations, does the same thing. Kellogg warbles like the sweetest of bird-singers, the sound coming from his throat. All of these may not be marvelous, as Kellogg insists, but we cannot do them, and there's the marvel.

Kellogg says his singing is "a gift of nature, not an accomplishment." He was born with rings in his throat, he claims, as are the feathered songsters Living in the woods the greater part of his life, he has had denizens of the wild as his companions He fears no living thing, claiming wild beasts as his friends and acquaintances. The so-called "lost art" of producing fire with two sticks is an easy task for Kellogg. He is, in fact, a man of the forests and streams, of the greater outdoors.

The stage setting is an accurate picture of his home in the wilds of Plumas county. Painted on the back drop is the waterfalls Kellogg is said to have sold to a western power company for a few thousands, some years ago. Today the rights would bring something in the hundreds of thousands.

To describe his act is impossible, for the charm is lost in the telling. Furthermore, one might cover page after page of description, only to have you remark, "Seeing is believing." It is. Go see Kellogg. He measures up to the biggest worth-while vaudeville novelty ever brought out this way.

FEARLESS CE DORA.

After a young woman bearing the title "Fearless Ce Dora" bows her way off the stage, one is inclined to turn to one's companion and dispose of that original—once—remark. "I wouldn't do it for a million dollars a minute."

Ce Dora does things on bicycles in a great globe The latter is of lattice-work and allows of the audience seeing the feat Ce Dora and a youngster ride bicycles in the globe. They attain a high speed and are carried at right angles up the sides of the globe Collisions seem imminent but none occur. This over, Ce Dora takes a motorcycle into the globe Her announcer also enters, standing at the bottom while she whirls over his head After the fearless young woman has reached an approximate speed of fifty miles an hour, she is riding at all sorts of angles on the inside of the globular track, just missing the head of the fellow inside. As a parting shot to fear, Ce Dora loops the loop a score of times, spending half of the seconds hanging downward from the top of the globe She is the biggest thriller of vaudeville.

SINGING CARTOONIST.

Art Bowen, a pleasant fellow, sings while he chalks cartoons. As a comic artist in vaudeville he is a success and his singing measures up to the standard.

John E Henshaw and Grace Avery in a sketchy sketch, won a home in Oakland yesterday. Henshaw is an old-timer at the game of making 'em laugh and retains his youthful ability. With Miss Avery he "puts over" fifteen minutes or so of fun.

Robinson Newbold's impersonations and Marie Louise Gribbin's voice help swell the fund of good things on the Orpheum bill. Newbold cares not for beauty and therefore goes the limit in facial contortions.

Louis L. Wills and Charles Hassan furnish the athletics with a series of equilibristic feats that are remarkable and new. Banjo experts are Clarence Siegal and Anna Matthews, extracting music from several stringed instruments The Whittakers remain for another week.

GENERAL MOSBY AT VALLEJO, UNDER ARREST

VALLEJO, April 15.—Although he is a general in the Mexican Army, J Mosby of the United States Marine Corps, son of Colonel John S. Mosby, the renowned Confederate guerilla chieftain, is under arrest here at Mare Island for desertion He was brought here from Los Angeles, where he surrendered himself after spending several months in the Mexican [illegible] to Uncle Sam and explains that he could not overcome the temptation to see the fun when the fur began to fly in Mexico. Accounts from the scene of war indicated that the Mexican regulars regarded Mosby as a "holy terror."

PUTS END TO BAD HABIT.

Things never look bright to one with "the blues." Ten to one the trouble is a torpid liver, filling the system with poisonous waste that Dr. King's New Life Pills would expel. Try them. Let the joy of better feelings end "the blues." Best for stomach, liver and kidneys. 25 cents at Eagles Bros.

GIRL IS INJURED ON MOTORCYCLE

Miss Flora Cantwell Thrown From Machine; Leg Is Fractured.

Thrown almost thirty yards from a motorcycle that was traveling at terrific speed yesterday afternoon on the Foothill boulevard near Elmhurst, Miss Flora Cantwell of 514 Hayes street, San Francisco, sustained a fracture of the leg, a broken nose and several lacerations of the face.

The accident was the result of a collision between the motorcycles driven by Alfred Newman of 1438 Page street, San Francisco, with whom Miss Cantwell was riding tandem, and C. Anderson of 2113 Ninth street, Berkeley In company with George Lawrence of 514 Hayes street, San Francisco, who was riding tandem with his wife, the lures machines were racing from Hayward to Oakland. Newman and Lawrence had gained a little on Anderson just east of Elmhurst, and while the two leading machines were running side by side, Anderson driving, according to onlookers, at a rate of speed in excess of fifty miles an hour, struck the motorcycle on which Miss Cantwell was riding

In the smash Newman and Miss Cantwell were thrown across the road and narrowly escaped death under the wheels of several passing automobiles Newman escaped without a bruise He attributes his good fortune to the fact that he was formerly a professional stage tumbler

J H Carlson, an employe of the Southern Pacific Company in Oakland, took charge of the injured person. He halted six passing machines with a request that Miss Cantwell who was unconscious cut and bleeding, be taken to medical aid In each case he met with a refusal. Finally J. H. Hamilton of Oakland took Miss Cantwell and Anderson to the emergency hospital where it was found that Miss Cantwell was in a precarious condition.

HIGHWAY ROBBER MAKES CONFESSION

Two Charged With Crimes Committed in This City; One Remains Silent.

John E. Anderson, for 17 years a brakeman for the Southern Pacific company, and Fred Williams, alias Fred Schaeffer, were charged this morning with felonies on the confession of Anderson that he and Williams were guilty of two highway robberies The two men will be arraigned before Judge Mortimer Smith tomorrow morning.

Anderson and Williams were arrested by Captain Thorwald Brown at the home of Anderson, 1033 Thirty-sixth avenue, yesterday. Inspectors McSorley and Flynn and Patrolman Schmidt assisted Anderson confessed to McSorley, but Williams refused to make a statement

Asked by Acting Chief Petersen whether he had taken to theft as a last resort when out of work and in need, Anderson answered that he was not "broke" at the time, but had been induced to steal by Williams. The police have been able to trace the connection of the two men with only two crimes, but believe they may be guilty of others

Anderson has confessed to having held up and robbed John Gessler, 1221 Thirty-third avenue, on the night of April 2d Williams, he states, aided him in both hold-ups. Williams has so far refused to admit participation in the crimes.

SMALL ELOPERS' HONEYMOON BRIEF

Babes of Three and Four "Wed" and Go on Tour of City.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—There was an elopement in the Italian quarter yesterday followed by a short honeymoon trip and a return to the family fireside Forgiveness was granted by the parents. The couple were missed at noon and never was there such excitement along Greene street, until their whereabouts were discovered and they were brought home to be ruthlessly separated

It was only because they were such tiny tykes that they were not vigorously spanked and that mothers and fathers saw the humorous side of the situation and shed tears of joy

Albert Marina, aged 4, was the groom, and Clementina Gamba, aged 3, was the bride Both live at 423 Greene street and a mock ceremony was performed in the back yard of the house in which the two families reside Then with a protecting air Albert took Clementina on his arm down the street hill to the North street plaza, where the honeymoon was spent. They played and they romped until dark when they were finally gathered in by a relative and hustled home.

"It's just fine to be married," said Albert, when he was gathered into his mother's arms, and as she had been crying all the afternoon, she buried her face in his curls and agreed with him

EVA RAY OFFERS CURE FOR DOUBTERS AT BELL

MISS EVA RAY, mysterious exponent of Thaumaturgy, who has wonder-act at Bell Theater.

(By LEO LEVY.)

Scoffers and doubters, inclined to revel in exposes of seances and so-called psychic mysteries, are cordially invited to attend the Bell theater this week. There we have Eva Ray, "mysterious exponent of thaumaturgy," mind reader, vaudeville feature, wonder-worker—anything you may be pleased to call her.

It is neither here nor there to declare you don't believe in what she does. You may mock at mind reading and cry "trickery," but the fact remains that she does it.

Miss Ray, bound and nailed to a chair and hidden in a cabinet, rings bells and hurls them out through the curtained walls. One of a committee is placed in the cabinet with her and he undergoes a brief third degree, but fails to discover the how or what.

It is all "old stuff" this cabinet work, but so well done that it is burnished.

Eva Ray, as a mind reader, is a success. If you don't believe us, go around and satisfy your doubts. She answers questions propounded on paper, calls you by name and does other things, some of which have been done before, most of which have not.

Believe in it or not, her act is decidedly pleasant, with enough fun in it to make it more worth while as a vaudeville feature.

SKETCH IS RAPID.

One Jack Hastings, possessed of a voice and an unlimited amount of nerve, borrows an artist's studio that he may get a hearing with Trixie Elyte, an actress. Which is all right, but when Charles Gana Ibsen, the artist, returns unexpectedly, complications ensue. They're bound to ensue. Couldn't do anything else, in fact.

But Hastings gets his hearing and a promise of meeting a manager. Also, he borrows the artist's dress suit and his talent.

All of which is the story of a sketch, "More Ways Than One," played by Beatrice McKenzie, Walter Shannon and William Brumell. "More Ways Than One" is a rapid tabloid with a deal of farce to make it go, and it gives Shannon a chance to display vocal powers of a splendid degree.

"Senator" Francis Murphy's opinion of the American people and politics, discussed in mangled German and tortured English, reminds you of your own thoughts. For instance, Murphy tells you that some of our Congressman, on a salary of $5000 a year, are spending $10,000 annually and saving $100,000. He discusses other persons and things in the same original manner, and is an entire success as a monologist.

RANDALL AT HIS BEST.

Carl Randall, a youngster in the game, could afford to cut his songs in a numerical half and pay strict attention to dancing. As a clog-tripper he displays enough speed and cleverness to make many an old-timer envious.

Juggling is often wear and tear on the patience of an audience in these days of advancing vaudeville, but Mozzetto manages to keep on the right side of his auditorium. What he does is accomplished with no more than a muff or two.

Sheridan and Sloan in an episode of tag-day open the bill with song and nonsense.

Berdicker, an elevator operator, has left the family home, and her 3-year-old daughter Evelyn, and completely disappeared. The child has been placed in the care of her grandmother, but continually calls for "mamma" and refuses to be comforted. Mrs. Berdiker, whom the police were today asked to find, is 22 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighs 121 pounds and has fair hair and complexion.

Sesnon was given a rousing send-off by the directors of the Chamber, at the weekly luncheon last Friday.

PLAN FEDERATION OF SHOP WORKERS

Representatives of Railway Craft Organizations Meet at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, April 15.—To perfect a federation of the shop employes of all the railroads west of the Mississippi river, representatives of railway craft organizations began a meeting at the Labor Temple here today. Plans for the new organization have been under way for several months.

The object of the federation, embracing unions with an aggregate membership of 200,000 men employes on forty-seven railroads, is to do away with the necessity of separate organizations taking up negotiations with separate railroads, and to unite all the mechanical trades so that concerted action may be taken when wage demands are made.

Demands will be made on all railroads in the same territory at the same time so that all the roads will be involved simultaneously if a strike is called.

DISCOVER NECESSITY.

Labor leaders say they discovered the need of the federation during the dispute last winter with the Harriman lines and Illinois Central and that the next time a strike is called it will be on a broader scale.

March 4 was originally set for the meeting, but it was postponed by international officers of the union officers, who said that too much publicity had been given to their plans.

Among the leaders who took part in the meeting today were the presidents of the five crafts represented as follows:

William H. Johnson, Washington, D. C., president International Brotherhood of Machinists; J. W. Kline, president International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths; M. F. Ryan, Kansas City, general president Brotherhood of Railway Carmen; J. A. Franklin, Kansas City, president international Brotherhood of Boilermakers; M. L. Sullivan, Kansas City, president International Alliance of Sheet Metal Workers.

TWO BURGLARS FLEE WHEN MAN APPROACHES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Mannie Carrol, an officer on the steamer Governor almost succeeded in capturing two burglars whom he surprised in the act of breaking into the commission house of Chessell Bros., 210 Washington street, early this morning. Carrol saw the men break a skylight and was approaching them when they caught sight of him and ran. He notified Sergeant Birdsall of the Harbor station, but a search of the neighborhood failed to reveal any trace of them.

WHY HE WAS LATE.

"What made you so late?"

"I met Smithson."

"Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."

"I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble."

"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"

"Sure, that is what he needs." Sold by Osgood Bros.' drug stores.

RABBI TELLS OF JUDAISM IN U. S.

President Samuel Schulman Delivers Notable Address at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 15.—"The Trend of American Judaism and Its Aid in the Preservation and Growth of the Religion of Israel," was the form of the message given to the central conference of American rabbis yesterday by President Samuel Schulman of New York. Rabbi Schulman praised the government at Washington for what it had done on the Russian passport question. He said:

"We glory in the name of American Judaism, but it implies for us nothing exclusive or provincial.

"It makes a tremendous difference whether the synagogue is being crushed by the arms of the destructive Russian bear, or whether it is being inspired and protected by the contemplation of the flight of the majestic eagle.

"Unquestionably, the synagogue in our country will have to shape itself differently from what the synagogue in a country whose atmosphere is that of the middle ages will be twisted into doing.

"As the religious leaders of the synagogue, we naturally take this opportunity to congratulate the national government, and through them the American people, upon the clear enunciation of the principle that the United States cannot allow any discrimination to be made by any government in American citizenship because of distinctions of race or creed. We congratulate them upon the act which told the Russian government that the United States expected every government to honor an American passport in the hands of any American citizen, irrespective of race or creed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE INFLUENCE.

"Conscious of its liberality, and at the same time its duty, the synagogue should watch jealously any possible undermining of its integrity from within. It, as rumor has it, Jews, like others, are being influenced by the teachings of a denomination called the church of Christian Science, it becomes our duty to investigate to what degree this is so. With any particular individual who, through mental stress or physical suffering, seeks what he considers remedies that are offered him by the practice of such a church, we should deal most tenderly. We should not estrange the brother. Heresy trials are contrary to the spirit of Judaism.

"But, on the other hand, when, as rumor has it, Jews formally enroll themselves as members of Christian Science churches and presumably subscribe to the tenets of Christian Science, some of which are opposed to the fundamental principles of Judaism, and when even officers of Jewish congregations find no inconsistency between membership in the synagogue and formal membership in the Christian Science church, such persons should be told that such double allegiance is impossible, that membership in the synagogue is incompatible with formal membership in a Christian Science church, even as such membership would be incompatible with membership of any other Christian denomination.

"No uncertain note should go forth from this body. We should make clear by reason the impossibility of such twofold membership in the synagogue and in a church. While the Jew becomes a member of the synagogue by birth and remains potentially a member of it, though he may not become formally affiliated with any particular congregation, and while he remains a Jew, as long as he does not formally adopt any other religion, he must be considered as ceasing to be a Jew, if he takes any step which formally puts him out of the synagogue."

VENUS AND MOON TO FLIRT TONIGHT

"Occultation" Is Name for It; Eclipse of Sun Booked for Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Venus and the moon will be very close tonight, almost to what the astronomer Sharpe calls an occultation, but it will be visible only in parts of Florida and Georgia.

On Wednesday there will be an eclipse of the sun visible only in the Eastern part of the United States.

The following ladies will be in charge of booths under the direction of Mrs. Braswell, the president: Fancy work—Mesdames Hughes and Adams, Anderson. Grab bag—Mesdames Cheney and Moon. Cooked foods—Mrs. Lentz. Candy—Mesdames Baker and Powell. Aprons—Mrs. Moulton. Refreshments—Mrs. Braswell.

FISHERMEN RESCUED FROM SNOWSTORM

SAN BERNARDINO, April 15.—Caught in the blizzard on the San Bernardino mountains, George Wayland and Harrison Brown, fishermen from Needles, nearly lost their lives. Brown was carried ten miles over snow five feet deep by rescuers from Bear Valley who had been summoned by his companion after Brown had fallen unconscious. Six feet of snow covers the entire Bear Valley, the heaviest April snowfall ever recorded.

Retrospect and a Forecast.

A few days will mark the sixth anniversary of a catastrophe that laid one city in ruins and woke another from a quiescent state into one of California's most promising commercial centers. Today, six years from the day that fire and earthquake laid San Francisco in ruins and sent thousands of refugees to Oakland for relief, great buildings are being finished here and huge commercial enterprises are vieing with the rebuilt city of the Golden Gate.

Only last week an Oakland firm purchased twenty thousand dollars' worth of linen goods, for use in a single department, by no means the largest in the institution. Last week also a magnificent new music store was opened. The week before that a new clothing store opened its doors, and the completion of the splendid new Capwell building, standing among several other magnificent commercial institutions, was the event of a short time ago.

Oakland is today one of the foremost cities in the country as regards financial matters, and will, in time to come, take its place among the great cities of the world. The logical terminal of the railroads, and therefore the logical receiving point for ships to come through the canal, Oakland is making preparations for the great increase of commerce soon to be hers. The splendid new Bankers' Hotel, the new Kahn building and several other model structures are to be ready in a very short time, and plans are under way for other improvements equally as important to the Athens of the Pacific.

The Athens of the Pacific—an appropriate name from the standpoint of its financial history as well as in other ways. Athens existed for a long time, says history, as a small and obscure village, suddenly to come forth as the center of commerce, culture and science of the world.

While San Francisco has rebuilt, Oakland has built, and has built the best she knew how. Other cities are beginning to realize her importance and are fast losing the old impression of her. She made a remarkably fine dormitory, but she is going to also make a huge fine commercial center, and to her enterprise the marts of the world will pay an ever increasing golden tribute.

Being the open season for floods and politics we won't miss the dearth of news from the Turco-Italian war.

Swat That Fly! Do It Now!

With the return of spring flowers and straw hats and baseball comes the national insect which has become a national pest. Prepare to receive it in the same spirit in which it comes, that of a destroyer of health. Make it unhealthy for the fly wherever it seeks to invade.

You have heard of the national anti-fly campaign. The aim of the crusade is to "increase peace, health and happiness." Its slogan is, "Keep them out."

Flies are no longer looked upon as scavengers and a necessary evil. The common house fly—musca domestica—is called "the typhoid fly" by Dr. L. O. Howard, national entomologist. It carries the bacilli of typhoid, tuberculosis, dysentery and intestinal diseases. Besides carrying germs, the fly is a creature of filth. It comes from manure piles and garbage pails into homes. The Merchants' Association of New York City has issued these rule for dealing with the fly nuisance:

"Keep the flies away from the sick, especially those ill with contagious diseases. Kill every fly that strays into the sick room. His body is covered with disease germs.

"Do not allow decaying material of any sort to accumulate on or near your premises.

"All refuse which tends in any way to fermentation, such as bedding, straw, paper, waste and vegetable matter, should be disposed of or covered with lime or kerosene oil.

"Screen all food, whether in the house or exposed for sale.

"Keep all receptacles for garbage carefully covered and the cans cleaned or sprinkled with oil or lime.

"Keep all stable manure in vault or pit, screened or sprinkled with lime, oil or other cheap preparations, such as are sold by a number of reliable manufacturers.

"See that your sewerage system is in good order; that it does not leak, is up-to-date and not exposed to flies.

"Pour kerosene into the drains.

"Burn or bury all table refuse.

"Screen all table refuse.

"Screen all windows and doors, especially in the kitchen and dining-room.

"If you see flies, you may be sure that their breeding place is in nearby filth. It may be behind the door, under the table or in the cuspidor.

"If there is no dirt and filth, there will be no flies.

"If there is a nuisance in the neighborhood write at once to the Health Department."

The Gold Hunter.

Upon one of the forks of the American river, within walking distance of Auburn, is a thatched cabin, rough of interior and exterior alike, where dwells a man some eighty-odd years of age. His name is known to but few of the ranchers in the district and matters little. He went to that country in the early fifties. He has never left. He has no wife or children, no other relatives he remembers. Breaking suddenly about a bend in the river the wayfarer comes unexpectedly upon him. He is crouched over the edge of the stream, grasping a rough machine of board, zinc-lined, warped and browned by age. He puts a bit of gravel in it, swashes it in a quart or so of water from the river, shakes the trough first one way and then the other, peers closely into it, sighs and shakes his head and empties the contents all again into the stream.

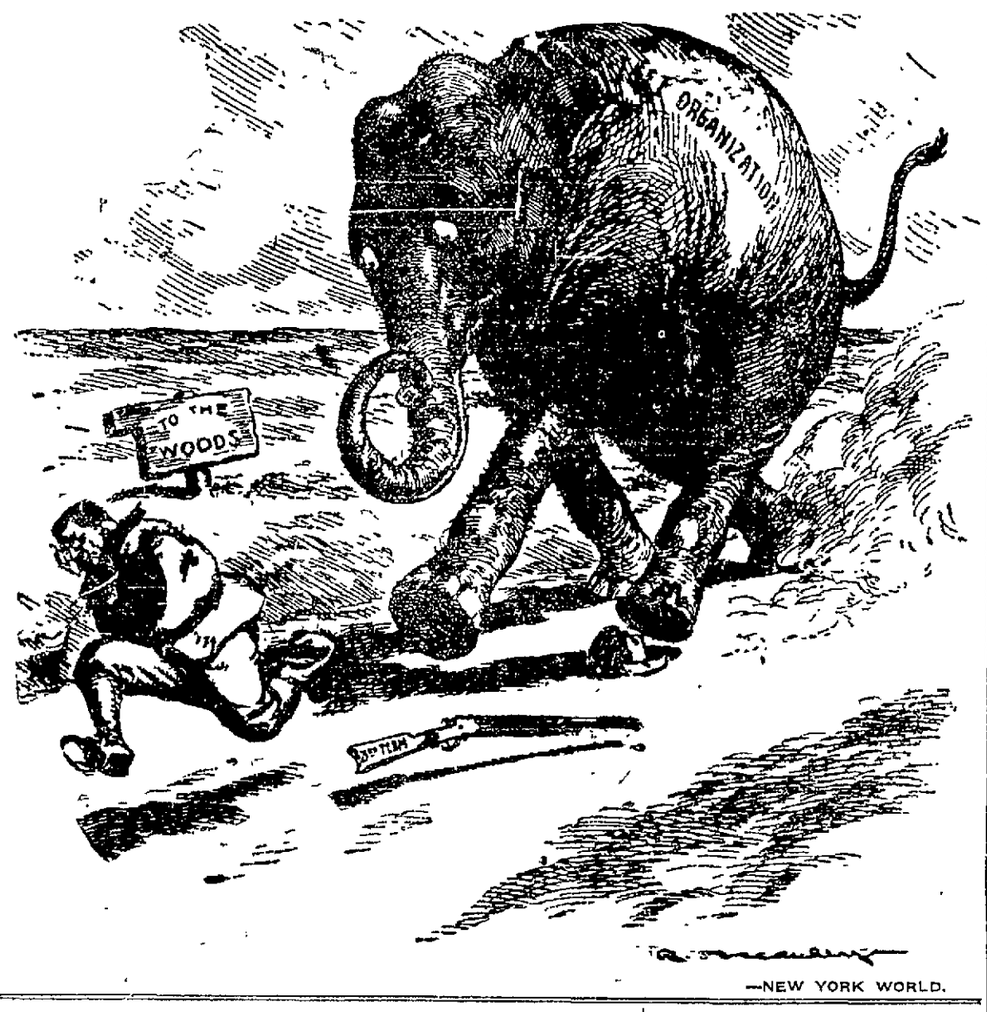

The man has been doing that same thing day after day, month after month, year after year, since a few dozen houses made up all of Oakland. He is hunting for gold, but beyond a thin sliver of color here and a sparsely speckled bit of quartz there, his quest for over half a century has been fruitless.

Dwellers at Auburn and Applegate and Clipper Gap will tell the inquirer that the man is crazy. That's the word they use, "crazy." Perhaps it is the mere monotony of the man's actions, difficult for a young American to understand, that gives them the impression. Perhaps, somewhere in his mind, there is a warped and twisted strand.

But the one who talks to him for the first time fails to be so impressed. The man is convinced that somewhere along that little purple stream is gold. Gold has been there and has been taken from there. Why not more? And some day, if the man lives long enough, it is not improbable he may prove his claim.

Whether or not we admire the devotion of a whole lifetime to so slender a hope as the man's, we must perforce admire his perseverance. What quality, after all, do his critics in the mountain towns need more than this steady, plodding, never-turning and never-halting perseverance of his? What does all the world need more than the faculty of setting its mind on one valid end and cutting out of the path thereto every obstacle that impedes? After all, the man is crazy merely because he is different. Who shall say whether those from whom he differs gain or lose by the difference?

—NEW YORK WORLD.

CITY OF GOLDEN DOMES

"The City of Golden Domes" Such is the name so often applied to the metropolis of Russia, St. Petersburg. It was Peter the Great who founded the city, and built it on a veritable swamp. The waters of the Neva river overflowed the lowland all about where the beautiful city of the czar now flourishes; but it was at the expense of many thousands of lives that the foundation of the present metropolis was built. It is said that even now one may see the moisture underlying the city oozing up between the paving blocks on the Nevsky Prospect, a busy thoroughfare. The city is not only built over water, which often threatens to inundate it, but the heavens seem to frown upon human beings having intruded there, for it rains or snows at least 200 days of the year, and sometimes a little more. The city is practically surrounded by water, for swamps abound on two sides, the sea and the river on another.

At the very beginning of the building of St. Petersburg every one seemed to hate the place, all save Peter the Great. And in view of this dislike, expressed by nobles and peasants alike, the ruler set thousands at work, "under compulsion of the knout," to build dikes and reclaim the land for the city. He called the city his "Paradise," and forbade the use of stone in building elsewhere, ordering all the stone accessible to be brought to St. Petersburg. Any peasant who wished to enter the city could do so by fetching a cartload of stone. This was his passport. Indeed, people did not have to beg to enter St. Petersburg. They were forced by the czar's command to abandon other places and come to dwell in his "pet" city. The consequence was a crowded quarter, where the poor herded together like so many rats, living in squalor and misery. Even to this day the Russian metropolis is the most unhealthy capital of Europe.

It will be readily understood how close the people live to the swamp waters when one reads of how "water suddenly invaded the rooms of the palace during one of the emperor's assemblages and obliged him and his guests to wade, ankle-deep, out of the palace." Of St. Petersburg the Russian historian says: "The foundation of St. Petersburg was the immortal mistake of a great reformer."

But St. Petersburg has become a beautiful and a majestic city, nevertheless. There is something imposing about her streets. The Winter Palace is splendid, as are also entire streets of beautiful buildings. It might be called a city of space, for the streets are so wide, and nowhere—save in the slums—does one find crowding. Everything seems on a gigantic scale—cathedrals, public and educational buildings, art galleries, etc. Beautiful statuary is seen in the public squares, the statue of Peter the Great being a magnificent monument to the glory of the ruler who built the city in the face of nature's and man's opposition.

Nevsky Prospect is the fashionable street of St. Petersburg. It is only three miles in length, but it is as celebrated a highway as Regent street, London, or Fifth avenue, New York.

During the winter months the days are very short, artificial light being turned on at 3.30 in the afternoon, and daylight not coming in full till about 10 in the morning. But during the summer months—June and July—one will see the sun at 2 o'clock in the morning, and easily read a book at 10 o'clock at night by nature's own light. Thus the summer recompenses one for the dreariness of winter.—Boston Globe

CLEVERNESS OF ANIMALS

Cats seem to know what dogs they can frighten and drive off, as well as those from which they would do well to steer clear. I have often seen a pet cat of ours drive a big dog away from her dish on the back porch, causing him to set up such a howl that one might suppose a catamount were after him, and again I have seen a fox terrier send the same cat flying up a tree as fast as she could climb it, without any questioning as to whether it were best to go or not.

Nearly every one has noticed the remarkable knowing quality developed in all shepherd dogs. According to my own personal observation these dogs help to keep the herds in the road and drive them in the right direction; they know their master's sheep and cattle, they can separate one herd from an other; they can keep each in its own pasture, they can prevent their master's sheep from mingling with his neighbor's—especially when the flock comes to a break in the wall or fence or hedge through which the sheep seem to have an almost irresistible tendency to pass—and on account of their great intelligence shepherd dogs are an almost indispensible aid to all those who have to manage sheep or cattle.

The cattle dogs of Cuba are but little less intelligent in their management of these animals as they are landed from the livestock vessels in some of the ports of that country. Two dogs swim beside each steer, for each steer is thrown into the water to find it own way ashore, and these dogs guide it by the ears until the animals feet touch bottom, when they immediately let go and return to the ship to assist another steer in reaching land in the same manner.

Darwin describes a trick played on a monkey to show its intelligence. Lumps of sugar wrapped in paper were first given to him. Then for sugar a live wasp was substituted, but after meeting with an unpleasant experience from the wasp, the monkey put the next package to his ear to learn if it might be safely opened. This action showed that the monkey had memory and considerable wisdom, and had discovered that a wasp buzzes when wrapped in paper.

The elephant looks stupid enough, but his intelligence is developed to a marked degree. Dr. Romanes tells several interesting stories showing the almost human instinct of these animals. A man was one day feeding a tame elephant with potatoes which the elephant took from his hand. A small round potato fell on the ground just out of reach.

After several unsuccessful attempts to get it the animal blew so strong a blast of breath against it that it was dashed against a wall, from which it rebounded so far that he easily reached it. It is said that an elephant will often blow just beyond small objects out of reach so that the reflected current of air will drive them toward him.

Dr. Romanes repeats the story of an elephant that was chained to a tree near a little oven in which his driver had just baked some rice cakes. When the driver went away, leaving his cakes to cool, the elephant unfastened the chain from his leg, uncovered the oven, opened it, ate the cakes and covered the oven with earth and stones as he had found it. He then returned to his place and wound the chain about his leg as it was before, although he could not fasten it. The driver, on his return, found the elephant with his back toward the oven, and looking innocent, but the cakes had completely disappeared.—St. Nicholas.

HEALTH CONDITIONS IN ALASKA

In striking contrast to the prompt and efficient medical interest displayed by the United States in the Philippines, Hawaii, Panama, Cuba and Porto Rico, has been the attitude of the government towardward health affairs among the natives of the District of Alaska, as shown by the report to Congress of Dr. Foster, of the U. S. Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service. Here is a territory approximating in area one-fifth of the United States and bounded by many thousands of miles of seacoast. The native population of twenty-five thousand is scattered through this vast expanse in villages averaging from thirty to three hundred inhabitants each.

From the sanitary standpoint the worst conditions were those associated with overcrowding in small, poorly ventilated houses, and with a very imperfect water-supply. Overcrowded living-quarters are largely responsible for the wide dissemination of tuberculosis. With the present inadequate water-supply in most of the villages, it is useless to preach personal or household cleanliness to the natives.

The habits and character of the natives are such as to foster unhygienic conditions. Laziness, carelessness and indifference are the rule. Were it not for the healthful climate and outdoor occupation, such as fishing and salmon-canning, the results would be far worse on the general health. Alcohol has its usual evil influence on an uncivilized people. Infant mortality is very high partly because of the lack of cow's milk; only condensed milk is available.

The diseases of most threatening aspect are tuberculosis and trachoma. Many of the Indians present an unusual resistance to tuberculosis, and this Foster attributes to their diet, which contains large quantities of fish oil. In 1364 Indians examined, about 4 per cent suffered from tuberculosis, most of which was of the pulmonary type. Over 7 per cent of those examined suffered from trachoma, and nearly 3 per cent were blind, to a great extent as a result of trachoma.

Foster makes three recommendations: (1) the establishment of a sanitarium for cases of pulmonary tuberculosis requiring hospital care; (2) the establishment of a home with suitable employment for destitute blind and crippled natives; (3) authority for a public health service officer to act as commissioner of public health for Alaska. In addition he urges extension of the medical work in connection with the Alaskan school service.

Considerations of justice and humanity urge that these recommendations be followed.

VIRGINIA MOUNTAINEERS

The outbreak of violence in Virginia is an odd commentary on the prize essay lately published in a military magazine on the best way of keeping the fighting spirit alive in America. There is still plenty of fighting blood in the country—the question is rather how to keep it in order. It would be a great mistake to suppose the Allen tribe degenerates or are criminals in the ordinary sense. They are outlaws, certainly, and at war with society, but they are not scum, nor are they all ignorant mountaineers. Plenty of men much like them lined up with Jackson at the battle of New Orleans. The fierce border wars of Scotland were fought by men of the same stripe. In another day they might have found a place in history, in a civilized country their place is in the criminal records. The civilized man calls cowardly the murderous attack on unprepared men. Mark Twain, who knew the breed, corrects the error in his thrilling account of a feud in "Huckleberry Finn." It is not well to confuse savagery with cowardice. These men are savages, but they are of stuff which, under other conditions, might have been made useful to the state. Some are mountain men, others farmers or merchants. The woman killed fighting by her husband's side was the daughter of the sheriff of Carroll county. In all, the clan numbers perhaps 150 or 200, born fighters, with an all-powerful love of kin. The feud, with the law once started, drew the clan in and spread like a civil war; many a tribe of the Scottish border has perished in the same way. The affair can be understood only by setting it back in history, it is a reminder that there are corners of the country still imperfectly civilized.

THOUSANDS MAKE MERRY AT POPULAR IDORA PARK

Amusement Grounds Thronged With Oaklanders

Even more popular than on Easter Sunday, Idora Park yesterday entertained thousands of people afternoon and evening. The crowds came from all directions.

There were endless attractions to hold their attention Creatore, the greatest of all band masters, held sway in the amphitheater with audiences ten thousand strong to attend and cheer him; the pergola grill and mission cafe served scores of merry parties, the various concessions swarmed with laughing throngs; the tent shows were packed to the bulging point and the spacious lawns and benches were scarce numerous enough to accommodate the overflow.

The day was ideal for out-of-door amusements and folks of every age came dressed in summer attire to participate in the fun. And it seemed that nothing was overlooked. Certainly not Creatore. The mammoth amphitheater was taxed to capacity at both concerts. Two great programs were rendered with encores to suit all tastes and demands Demonstrations were frequent as they are always certain to be at a Creatore recital, and at times the ovations reached climaxes almost equal to those for which that incomparable organization which inspired them is famed Without question Creatore is the greatest musician and the most magnetic conductor that has ever been presented at Idora Park. He holds the absolute and entire attention of his audience from the very beginning to the end of his programs. With such tremendous numbers as the vivid "1812" overture and the finale from the third act of "La Gioconda," he yesterday literally pulled people from their chairs on to their feet and left them shouting his praises Nor did he leave them either, for at the close of the Tschaikowksy number, he was recalled no less than fourteen times.

There will be a different Creatore program every afternoon and every evening this week, with such special concerts as an "all popular music night" on Thursday and an entire program of eight Wagnerian numbers on Friday evening. Music lovers should miss none of them All of the concessions, and many of them are new to 1912 patrons, which pleased yesterday's throngs, will be in operation every day this week, a number of dinner parties have been formed, several picnics have been arranged and the next seven days promise to be merry ones at "the park beautiful."

Tonight's Creatore program follows:

March, "The Leader".....Creatore
Overture, "Nabucco" .....Verdi
Spring Song .....Mendelssohn
Grand Selection, Act III and IV from "Andrea Chenier".....Giordano

URGES OBSERVANCE OF DAY OF REST

Albany Pastor Declares All Work Should Stop on First Day.

ALBANY, April 15. — The regular and careful observance of a weekly day of rest was said by the Rev. S. W. Coffman, in his sermon last evening, to be an advantage in every way, physically, mentally, morally, financially and spiritually. The nations which best observe such a day were said to be the most progressive and prosperous. The brain and the entire nervous and muscular systems were said to be so constituted as to require not only a period of rest each 24 hours but in addition a longer period consisting of two nights and the intervening day.

Rev. Coffman urged that as many individuals as possible make Sunday such a day of rest because of the special social and religious privileges afforded on that day by the services of the church, and that even in the absence of a State law requiring that stores and other places of commerce be closed on Sunday, Christian people should refrain on that day from either buying or selling so that their neighbors as well as they may enjoy necessary freedom from toil.

"If you must read the Sunday newspaper," said Coffman, "if you cannot follow the news in any other way, read it on some other day than Sunday, or your minds will be incapacitated for the services of the church and be in the condition in which a Harvard professor recently described some of his women pupils as being 'the inside of their heads in the same condition as the inside of their upper bureau drawers!' The Sunday newspaper does not occupy the time and attention of the editors on Sunday except for the first hour or two after midnight but it requires the time and attention of a great host of men and boys for its distribution and its perusal on Sunday does not tend to the upbuilding of mind and spirit."

PLAN TO RESTORE FAMOUS MISSION

MISSION SAN JOSE, April 15. — The Native Sons' parlors of Washington township have taken the first step toward the proposed restoration of the famous old mission here. An estimate of the cost is to be made immediately This was decided upon at a special meeting of a committee composed of the various township parlors a few days ago. Temple Opened to Public With Elaborate Ceremony Saturday Night.

H Bartley was master of ceremonies.

The completion of the project sees the realization of an idea of J L. Sullivan, president of the Vallejo Trades and Labor Council, conceived several years ago. Work on the temple was begun three months ago and was done entirely by union men of Vallejo who were out of employment. They were paid out of the treasury of the council.

The building covers a lot 50 by 100 feet and affords space for five lodge rooms. All of the local unions donated money for construction, taking stock, as did many business men. The temple fronts in Virginia street.

RAGGERS ORGANIZE IN VALLEY CITY

Livermore Divided Into Two Camps by Prosecution of Candido.

LIVERMORE, April 15.—The prosecution of Gus Candido for "ragging" at Dania hall last week, has not dismayed the adherents of the "Texas Tommie," "bunny hug" or "grizzly bear." They have just started, the latest move being the organization of the Livermore Ragtime Band, under the leadership of Peter Higuera. Also the conservative women of Livermore are much shocked at the announcement of a pig open air "ragging" dance to be given Sunday, April 28, at Brushy peak, outside the town limits, where there will be no danger of interference from the police.

The question of allowing the "turkey trot" and other steps to this nature in the public dances in Livermore has long been puzzling the town board and the recently elected trustees are anxiously awaiting the first meeting, when the matter will have to be gone into. The town is now divided into two camps: the "raggers" and the "non-raggers," and the trustees have been asked to keep up the "good name" of the town.

JAIL DELIVERY IS PREVENTED

Cell Bars in Chicago Prison Are Sawed; Plot Is Discovered.

CHICAGO, April 15. — Twenty-five detectives and jail guards last night did patrol duty in the streets around the county jail in the hope of arresting occupants of an automobile who were expected to be on hand to assist in a jail delivery. A short time before, Jailer Davis had found a loaded revolver and two steel saws in a cell occupied by James Hogan and Frank Thompson. The two were taken to the jailer's office and stated that the automobile would be on hand. It did not come.

Jailer Davis has had information for several days that a delivery plot was going on within the jail but he was unable to learn who was at the bottom of it, until he called several of his "trusties" and told them they must get the information for him. One of them succeeded. The cell bars had been sawed.

S.S.S. PURIFIES BAD BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of our ailments, and when from any cause it becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, trouble in some form is sure to follow. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, pimples, etc., show that the blood is infected with unhealthy humors which have changed it from a pure, fresh stream to a sour, acrid fluid, which forces out its impurities through the pores and glands of the skin. A very common evidence of bad blood is sores and ulcers, which break out on the flesh, often from a very insignificant bruise, or even scratch or abrasion. If the blood was healthy the place would heal at once; but being infected with impurities which are discharged into the wound, irritation and inflammation are set up, the fibres and tissues are broken, and the sore continues until the blood is purified of the cause. S. S. S. is Nature's blood-purifier and tonic, made entirely from roots, herbs and barks. It goes down into the circulation and removes every particle of impurity, humor or poison, restores lost vitality, and steadily tones up the entire system. S. S. S. neutralizes any excess of acid in the blood, making it pure, fresh and healthy, and permanently cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Boils, and all other skin eruption or disease. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

Gas the Best Fuel for Cooking

We invite you to use GAS FOR COOKING for the following reasons:

THE COST of a Gas Stove is less than that of any stove of equal capacity.

REPAIRS are seldom needed. The heat is applied directly to the cooking utensils or the thing cooked, hence there is no warping or burning out of stove plates.

FUEL is bought only in small quantities and paid for after it is used. Gas, if not wasted, will do your cooking cheaper than coal or wood.

LABOR is continually saved by cooking with GAS.

TIME is gained by the speed with which a Gas Stove can be put into operation.

IN ADDITION, the Gas Stove is cleaner, healthier and safer than any other appliance that has been devised for cooking.

We furnish FREE EXPERT ADVICE to customers.

CHILD WAS SICKLY

Mother Says, "I Think Vinol Saved Her Life."

Parents are wise in trying to break up children's coughs quickly, but they are not always as wise as this mother in the means they adopt.

Mrs. Willis Van Inwegen of Bloomingburg, N. Y., says: "My small girl had bronchitis all winter, till the doctor said it was chronic and we were afraid we should lose her. I commenced giving her Vinol three times a day and now she is growing fine. I think Vinol saved her life."

Children like to take our delicious tonic, Vinol, because it is pleasant. And it is much better for them than so-called "cough medicines," for they have no strengthening power, while Vinol builds up the body and makes the blood rich. Give Vinol to your delicate, rundown children (and take it yourself if you are not as strong as you should be), and you will be delighted with the results. If you are not we give back your money. YACHTING SEASON OPENS ON BAY

Bright Day Brings Out Great Collection of Pleasure Craft.

The pleasant weather yesterday was the signal for the opening of the yachting season and from early morning till late in the evening, yachts, launches, canoes and other craft were running about the bay with their cargoes of human freight. Captain John Stanly's pleasure launch Ceres made her initial appearance on the water yesterday after her recent overhauling with a crowd of 27 young people comprising the Ceres fishing club, on board. The party cruised about the bay during the afternoon hours, while the morning was devoted to fishing off Angel Island. The fish bit fine and the party were rewarded with the biggest "catch" this year.

Several members of the Encinal Yachting Club were out with their skiffs and the estuary presented something of a gala day appearance. According to the officers of the club this year promises to be one of the biggest in the club's history. A big reduction has been made in the initiation into the organization and every day sees the introduction of new members into the club. Among the members of the club on the water yesterday was Frederick Wright, a well known musician who recently arrived here after an extended trip through the east. Wright who in times past was regarded as an expert canoeist was well pleased with his outing and is said to have declared that he will begin making weekly trips about the bay. No serious accidents were reported although several minor collisions were in evidence during the day.

The last vessel of the Alaska Packer Association fleet of salmon packets left the harbor today when the refrigerator schooner Metha Nelson left the United Engineering Works' yards in tow of the tug Pilot for San Francisco. She will pick up her supplies and will then sail for the north.

GOES ON WAYS.

The steam schooner Coronado, Captain Standeland from Grays Harbor went on the ways of the Moore and Scott shipyards today. She will be cleaned and painted. Another vessel to go on the ways this morning was the steam schooner Coaster which was drydocked at the United Engineering Works. She will receive a general overhauling. Other vessels at the United Engineering Works are the steam schooners Noyo, Gualala, and Samoa and the bargentine John Smith. All are undergoing repairs.

Arriving here today direct from sea was the Pacific Coast freight and passenger steamer City of Topeka, Captain Gielow, from Eureka. The vessel upon her arrival at this port touched on the San Francisco side where she left her list of passengers and then steamed over and tied at Long wharf. She is discharging 150,000 foot cargo lumber all of which is consigned for for cities in the east.

Reporting a rough passage the steam schooner Nome City arrived here yesterday afternoon from Seattle. She tied up at a berth alongside the Sunset Lumber Company's wharf where she is discharging a bumper lumber cargo. She is in charge of Captain Hanson and came into port uninjured.

Vessels at Long wharf today included the steam schooners Tallac, Captain Hanson, from San Pedro after cement; Redondo, Captain Magee, from Coos Bay, discharging lumber; Sea Foam, Captain Henriksen, from Mendocino via Point Arena, discharging lumber, and Ravalli, Captain Nelson, from Eureka, discharging lumber.

CONBOY TO BE LAST WITNESS

Will End Trial by Taking the Stand in His Own Defense.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Former Captain of Police Michael J. Conboy will be the last witness for the defense in connection with his trial for the murder of Bernard Lagan. Emil Hearn, a police officer, who was summoned to the scene of the shooting on Fillmore street, was the first witness today and was followed by J. D. Shaw, of the Congress hotel, who testified that he had heard Lagan talking. He declared that Conboy had cried "You're a pickpocket and a holdup," but that he did not see the guns fired. Corporal of Police H. L. Lee told of the arrest of Conboy and of the actions immediately after the shooting. It is said that the case will be ready for the jury by Thursday.

FOSS PAYS INDIGENT'S FARE TO LOS ANGELES

Edward Findley, an indigent who for the last three years has been an inmate of the county infirmary, has departed for Los Angeles. Supervisor Edward W. Foss of Berkeley paid the fare for his transportation today by reimbursing J. J. Collins who had paid it upon himself to buy Findley a ticket several days ago. The board of supervisors refused to make the payment for the reason that the transaction would be retroactive and Deputy District Attorney Leon A. Clark gave as his opinion that such procedure would not be legal.

101 RANCH WILD WEST SHOW ARRIVES

MAGNITUDE OF SHOW IS SURPRISE

LULU PARR, champion rough rider with the 101 Ranch Wild West Show which opened this afternoon.

Big Street Parade Is Seen by Thousands, Who Line Up on Oakland Sidewalks

Oakland and Oakland's streets were turned over to the 101 Ranch Wild West show today. The big show arrived at an early hour this morning, and long before Oakland was fairly awake the show grounds at Twelfth and Fallon streets, opposite Lake Merritt, were transformed into a busy city of canvas. There was much of interest to see, both at the "runs," where the show was unloaded, and on the exhibition grounds, and not only the younger generation of Oakland, but also the younger generation's big brother, were on hand in force to enjoy the "free show," and to watch the preparations making for the preliminary street parade and the exhibitions to follow.

One of the surprising things to the early visitor was the magnitude of the show. The 101 Ranch Wild West was a new institution to Oakland amusement lovers, and very few had any conception of the immensity of the exhibition. The size and number of the tents disposed of any question as to its scope. The big arena tent, the horse tents, the tents devoted to the Indian camps and for housing the buffaloes, steers and other animals, to say nothing of the commissary departments, the wardrobe tents and all the other necessary departments of a great traveling show departments of a great traveling show spread out for a seemingly interminable distance. There was spread today, for the first time this season, an entirely new canvas, and this, with a brave array of new flags, fluttering in the breeze, gave the show grounds a gay and brilliant appearance.

PARADE IS EVENT.

There was no delay in getting out the parade, which was the first big event of the day. It left the show grounds about 10:30 and passed over the principal downtown streets. It was a beautiful and brilliant—quite the most effective display of its kind seen in Oakland recently. The line was led by a detachment of Oakland police, who did effective service in keeping the streets clear for the long line of glittering processional novelties. Then came Joseph C. Miller, the president and head of the 101 Ranch, riding on his famous horse, Don Hur, and sitting astride a beautiful silver-mounted and jeweled saddle, valued at over $5000. The line that followed embraced all the famous and clever cowboy and cowgirl champions of the show; daring broncho busters, riding Indian ponies, celebrated ropers from Oklahoma, Wyoming and Oregon, and many other ranch notabilities, all costumed in the characteristic style of the cattle range.

Interspersed through the parade were suggestions of the old pioneer days. There was the old Wells-Fargo stage coach, driven by "Rocky Mountain Hank" long haired and [illegible], and an actual relic of the old days when the stage coach driver knew that every trip meant a fight with bandits or Indians; there was a train of prairie schooners, drawn by long-horned Texas and Oklahoma steers, just as in the days of the overland trail, and bringing back memories of pleasure and hardships to many a '49er, there were real buffaloes, carried atop a big tableau float, and innumerable other floats, with tableaux vivant representing in animated way scenes and incidents in the winning of the West.

MANY INDIANS MARCH.

One of the most interesting features of the parade was the large number of Indians. There was no necessity for announcing that they were representatives of various tribes. The differences in physiognomy, costuming and the style of wearing the hair was most pronounced. There was also a singular difference in the style of headdress affected by the different tribes. The Sioux with their long hair and brilliant feather display dazzled the eyes, but the Navajos, without feathers, but with their hair abbreviated into a "Dutch cut," and wearing blankets all the colors of the rainbow, were equally interesting. There were over a hundred Indians in the line. The braves were mounted on wiry little ponies. The squaws, in many instances carrying papooses, looked down in wonder at the crowds in the streets from the top of big floats, where their gay costumes added to the general brightness of the display.

The parade was over a mile in length, and had the unusual novelty of being bright, fresh-looking and attractive. As an introduction to the show, and an incentive to witness the performances in the arena, it was immense.

The first performance is taking place this afternoon. There will also be performances tonight and Tuesday afternoon and night. All the famous Wild West characters will appear at these exhibitions, and the best performance of its kind now known to the American public is assured. Seats may be secured downtown at Sherman, Clay & Co.'s without any advance in prices.

CONVICTION TO BE EASIER TO ATTAIN

Ordinance Passed to Print Relating to Chinese Lottery Cases.

An ordinance drawn by Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto to make conviction in cases of prosecutions against the Chinese lotteries more easy to obtain was passed to print by the city council this morning.

The anti-noise ordinance introduced into the city council last week, was laid over in council this morning, as some of the commissioners feared it might interfere with the normal activities of the small boy in exercising his lungs. Copies of the ordinance were ordered made for the perusal of the councilmen.

DR. WHITE REVIEWS 'THE GREAT ILLUSION'

In an effort to create interest in a new book entitled "The Great Illusion," Rev. George W. White, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city, gave a review of that volume before the Methodist ministers of San Francisco and the east bay cities at a meeting held this morning in the rooms of the Methodist Book Concern in San Francisco.

Dr. White declares that "The Great Illusion" is one of the most brilliant books of modern times and that it challenges the accepted views of statesmen and military men upon the subject of the the futility of war.

"It is stirring reading, and exceedingly suggestive of the changes which have taken place in international affairs in the last century," he said. "The book has made a tremendous impression all over the world. It appeared in 1910, and was printed simultaneously in all the capitals of the world. The publication has caused a great shaking among the dry bones."

LIQUOR LICENSES ARE GRANTED BY COUNCIL

Liquor licenses were granted by the city council this morning as follows: C. Conco, 701 Washington street, successor to Conco & Mollette saloon; [illegible], 1815 San Pablo avenue, successor to Spiro Milisich, restaurant and bar.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO HOTEL FUND MEAN SERVICE TO OAKLAND

An opportunity for service to the city of Oakland and the outlying districts is now presenting itself to the residents of the city and county. The medium is the new Hotel Oakland which is the latest and most important enterprise outlined for the good of the community. The service required is additional subscriptions to stock in the undertaking which will bring in an additional $23,000 to enable the hotel association directors to go forward with the hotel's furnishing.

Realizing this service, who is there in the city who does not appreciate the importance of taking part in it? Who is there in the community who does not owe his livelihood and success to the community as a whole? And who, realizing this, cannot also see the duty of each individual to furnish a recompense for the benefits received through returning to the community a portion of the wealth taken from it? This cannot be better done at the present time than through subscriptions of stock to the new Hotel Oakland.

MATTER OF ENTERPRISE.

In the matter of response to the call for additional pledges to the furnishing fund of the new hostelry, it should be a matter of pride to every citizen of Oakland to have the word go abroad that the community as a whole is back of the enterprise. Such has been the case in exceptional degree thus far, the stock in the hotel being held entirely in the hands of local capital, instead of being controlled by capital of other cities, as is generally the case. It should remain so throughout the entire undertaking. Every effort should be made to make the hotel project entirely an Oakland and Alameda county one, the dividends of the project returning to the pockets of the local men who have subscribed to construct the hotel.

Let the people of the city and county, then, show their confidence in the project and in the section which is responsible for its existence. Let the word go abroad that when the people of Oakland were called upon to erect a great hotel, a monument to their faith in their city, they responded with enthusiasm to the call and invested in what will be one of the finest hotels in the United States, a credit to any city and a matter of justifiable pride to all.

Murder Suspect is Not Man Wanted

Elmer Schmidt Bears no Resemblance to Slayer of Mrs. Marie Groff.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 15.—Elmer Schmidt, arrested at San Francisco on the supposition that he might be William Schmidt, who is accused of the murder of Mrs. Marie Groff of this city, is not the man for whom the police are looking. Photographs of Elmer Schmidt, which arrived today, bear no resemblance to the Schmidt for whom a reward is offered.

Rockefeller Foundation Bill Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Upon protests of members that the creation of a great corporation of $100,000,000 might compete with private interests and end in controlling the government, the House today refused to pass a bill incorporating the Rockefeller foundation and struck it from the calendar. The bill has been before Congress two years.

MAY CALL POLICE TO PROTECT WORK

Sewer Proceedings Cause of Quarrel Between City and Southern Pacific.

That the aid of the police department may be invoked in protecting the work of Contractor F. H. Dahnke in the Fitchburg sanitary district against the Southern Pacific Company, was the statement made by Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus this morning. The railroad officials notified Dahnke that the company would not permit him to continue the work of excavating a trench on Railroad avenue, to which the Southern Pacific claims title. Baccus has authorized Dahnke to proceed and has promised the contractor police protection if necessary.

Dahnke was awarded the contract to put in the main outlet sewer in Sanitary District No. 3. When he proceeded to open up a trench in railroad avenue, the Southern Pacific Company ordered Dahnke to discontinue, threatening that if he continued the railroad would put a force of men into the field to fill the trench as fast as it should be excavated.

The railroad claims title to this and to several miles of street in the district. Dahnke took the matter before the city council and Commissioner of Streets Baccus made an investigation.

Baccus notified the council this morning that the railroad had no title to the land and that he had instructed Dahnke to proceed with the work.

"We will call upon the police department if the contractor is interfered with," declared Baccus. Baccus made the following report to the council.

Oakland, Cal., April 15, 1912.

To the Council of the City of Oakland.

Gentlemen: You referred to me the communication from Mr. F. H. Dahnke, dated April 10, 1912, in which he informs the Council that the Southern Pacific Company stopped his sewer work on Railroad avenue, between Seventy-first and Seventy-seventh avenues. I have had this matter looked up in the County Recorder's office, and find that there is a legally dedicated street along the line of this proposed sewer. The records show that the Southern Pacific Company has no title to this street other than that included in their railroad right-of-way, and the sewer has been located so as to keep within the boundary of the dedicated street. The Superintendent of Streets has this day given Mr. Dahnke written instructions to proceed with the construction of a portion of the sewer under his contract.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. J. BACCUS,
Commissioner of Streets.

BOHANNON MAKES APPEAL TO BOARD

Declares He Has Been Refused Opportunity to Practice at Hospital.

J. L. Bohannon, who conducts a cancer institute at 140 Claremont avenue, Berkeley, is angered at the board of supervisors because Dr. C. L. Wills, resident physician at the county infirmary, refused to let him treat cancer patients confined in the institution. George Gelder, representing Bohannon, appeared before the supervisors this morning and protested. He said that his client had been granted a certificate to practice his cure by a special act of the legislature in 1910, but the state board of medical examiners had required him to demonstrate his ability.

Accordingly Bohannon sought a patient and rang up Dr. Wills at the infirmary with a request that he be allowed to take one from the place. He says that Dr. Wills refused on the ground that such procedure would not be ethical and for other reasons.

Finally, it seems that Dr. Wills told Bohannon and Gelder that they could visit the infirmary if they desired.

"We hired an automobile for $7 and went out there," said Gelder, "but when we got there we were told that we could not see the patients nor would Dr. Wills give us any information concerning them. So we left."

When questioned by Supervisor Bridge, Gelder admitted that Bohannon was not a licensed physician or surgeon, but contended that inasmuch as 75,000 persons died each year from the disease, something should be done and professional ethics should not be permitted to stand in the way of cures.

"If patients want to go to Bohannon and take his treatment they are privileged to do so," said Dr. Wills, "but as he is not a physician it would be improper for the county to turn over its patients to him to experiment with."

RESTRAINS SON.

A short time ago Bohannon sued for an injunction restraining his son from practicing the cancer cure under a name similar to that of his own institution. In court both father and son charged that each had threatened to kill the other and Judge Waste granted the injunction. The matter as presented today was placed on file by the supervisors.

Changes at the county infirmary as announced by Dr. Wills are as follows:

K. F. Bluett as nurse in place of L. Powers at a salary of $50 per month.

J. Sansberg as smallpox nurse in place of C. Gormer at $1 per day.

A. Sanborn for the same position as extra at $1 per day.

W. C. Yates as head cook at $80 per month.

The board accepted the appointments of election officers who will act during the primaries on May 14, and designated the polling places. The rolls are now being prepared for publication.

Liquor licenses were granted to S. Hansen of Alvarado, Joseph Ball of Fernbrook Park and J. D. Silva of Newark.

The application of F. C. Millhouse of Decoto was denied. Those of J. J. O'Keefe and T. D. Roderick of Irvington went over for one week on motion of Supervisor Murphy. Applications for renewals were made by S. L. Powell of Santa Rita Junction and by S. Hansen of Centerville.

All the members of the board were present and the meeting adjourned until next Monday.

SIXTEENTH STREET PROPERTY IS SOLD

Los Angeles Capitalist Buys Corner at Brush Street for $26,000.

The Northeast corner of Sixteenth and Brush streets, 100 by 70 feet, has been sold by Henry East to Charles F. Pitkin, a Los Angeles capitalist. The consideration was $26,000. A building containing seven flats occupies the corner, but the new owner announces that he expects to erect an apartment house, containing stores on the ground floor, in the near future.

The sale of the property was completed through the agency of the Laymance Real Estate company, C. W. Miller of that firm representing both buyer and seller.

This is the fifteenth piece of property on Sixteenth street sold through this firm within the last sixty days, the aggregate amount involved being a quarter of a million dollars.

Pitkin declares that railroad development has practically ceased in Los Angeles, while in the bay counties there is much activity of this kind, particularly in suburban transportation.

COPPER SPECIMEN WEIGHS 3000 LBS.

Ore Exhibited Here Attracts Much Interest; Owners of Mine Local Men.

A specimen of copper ore from the mine of the Mascot Copper company at Dos Cobascos, Arizona, near Wilcox, has been attracting much attention since its display in one of the windows of the Southern Pacific Railroad company at Broadway and Thirteenth street. The concern owning and controlling the mine has for stockholders a number of prominent Oakland men, including Mayor Frank K. Mott, John W. Phillips, George W. Grayson, W. C. Ralston, Walter A. Kenny, as well as others well known here, including ex-Governor Gillett, and interest in the specimen has accordingly been keen locally.

The sample has a weight of over 3000 pounds and shows a varied mixture of metals. It assays 13½ per cent copper, 41 per cent iron, and shows gold at the rate of $6.50 per ton. The specimen was taken from a forty-foot vein just opened, the mass of metal being embedded in a huge boulder from which it required forty-three hours work with granite saws, electrically-driven, to free it.

The company controlling the mine, which is located eighteen miles from Wilcox, was launched several years ago, and a large number of financiers were enrolled as stockholders. The property was placed in charge of T. M. McCauley, formerly of Chicago, as manager, and is considered one of the most successful undertakings of the sort in the section.

HUGHES CLUB SCORES IN SUNDAY PROGRAM

Well deserved applause greeted the Hughes club members yesterday, when they gave an excellent program at the Greek theater in Berkeley, delighting the large audience of music lovers who, lured by the ideal weather and the offered program, were present in large numbers.

The work done by the club chorus was unusually good, and showed careful and scholarly preparation. Mrs. John J. Rollin Fitch, soprano, gave several enjoyable numbers, including "The Approach of Spring," "The Bhat Rows," and "The Wish." She was assisted by the club chorus.

Other soloists for the afternoon were Mrs. Mrs. Charles Poulter, Miss Ruth Weston, Mrs. Nellie Chase Williams and Arthur J. Bradley.

GROWS HAIR ON BALD HEADS

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ-killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphtnol, also a powerful antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs, which rob the hair of its nutriment, and thus creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpine is a well-known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to disease. Yet it is not a coloring matter or dye

The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of Resorcin, Beta Naphthol and Pilocarpine, combined with pure alcohol, because of its cleansing and antiseptic qualities. It makes the scalp healthy, nourishes the hair, revitalizes the roots, supplies hair nourishment and stimulates a new growth.

We want you to try a few bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give absolute satisfaction That's proof of our faith in this remedy and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except of course where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done for hundreds of others it will do for you In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee Two sizes, 50 cents and $1 00 Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at the Owl Drug Company stores in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle, Spokane

HUNDREDS MOURN WM. J. GOLCHER

Well Known Sportsman Dies After Illness of Many Weeks.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—William J Golcher, one of the best known sportsmen on the coast, died yesterday at his home, 1058 Cole street, after an illness of some weeks Every angler, hunter and athlete was his friend Head of a large sporting goods house, W. J Golcher came into contact with men in all branches of sport He was a shotgun expert and in the last twenty years had fished every stream along the coast

For many years past it was the custom of hunters and anglers to inquire of Golcher where the best sport was to be had as he always kept well-posted on such matters

The name of Golcher has become identified with the pioneer business men of this city. Close to forty years ago Golcher's father organized the firm of Clabrough, Golcher & Company, and it continued under that style until the fire After the catastrophe of 1906 the business of the old corporation was wound up, and W J. Golcher and H C. Golcher, who had been identified with the old firm for twenty years, entered the sporting goods field under the name of Golcher Brothers.

A years ago W. J Golcher suffered an attack of pneumonia, and since that time he has not been in the best of health Nervous prostration followed a few weeks ago, but Golcher had apparently recovered from that after a visit to the southern part of the State. He returned home ten days ago and his physicians decided upon an operation. He was operated upon last Monday and no hope was held out for his recovery.

Golcher was 51 years old He is survived by his mother, Catherine C Golcher, his widow, Florence E, and two sons, William E and Charles L. Golcher Funeral services will be held tomorrow from Gray's Chapel. Interment will be private.

WANDERS AFIELD AT AGE OF 99

Californian, Born Christmas Morning, 1813, Seeks Refuge at Tracy.

TRACY, April 15.—Too proud to beg, Thomas Dunbar, one of California's oldest pioneers, who says that he first saw the light of day Christmas morning, 1813, arrived in Tracy late yesterday, penniless and hungry, and was found in this condition by Robin Adair.

Dunbar requested permission to unroll his blankets and sleep in a building now undergoing construction on which Adair is at work Adair becoming interested in the old fellow, granted the request and started to question him

"I have lived many years in Mendocino county," the old man said, "and now I am walking to Fresno, where my niece, Mrs Mary Thompson, lives. She owns a 35-acre ranch about five miles from town, and it is to her place I want to go and spend my remaining days on earth. She sent me money to ride on the train, but I was troubled with rheumatism and spent the little mite I had in doctor bills. When I was able I set forth on foot I sold my clothes and what trinkets I had on the way down the valley to purchase food

"I came to California in 1844 and made a fortune At one time I owned 135 acres of land within a stone's throw of where San Francisco's new civic center will be I lost everything in gambling in Comstock stocks, including land now worth millions. Since then I have been buffeted about, and despite the handicap of almost five score of years that I am now laboring under I feel that my day will not come soon, at least I hope not

Adair invited Dunbar to accompany him to a restaurant to which Dunbar said, "No, I have eaten" After much coaxing the old gentleman accepted and then said that he had only had a couple of slices of bread He was then given a bed in a Central avenue hotel Today he will be provided with sufficient funds to complete his trip by rail

PUBLICITY MAN TO BE SPEAKER AT 'AD' LUNCHEON

FREDERICK S. NELSON.

Frederick S Nelson, a well known publicity man of San Francisco, will be the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Oakland Advertising Association tomorrow at the Saddle Rock cafe

Nelson has chosen for the subject of his talk a very vital one, both to the man engaged in advertising as a profession and to the business man or merchant as well, viz 'What Is an Advertising Man?"

Advertising has become such a factor in the business world today that there is not a man or woman perhaps but what is brought more or less under its influence It is then of the foremost importance that the public should know the manner of man who goes about spreading the gospel of publicity

Nelson is eminently fitted by experience and education to present this subject in an interesting way He is the secretary-treasurer of the San Francisco Advertising Men's Association and also manager of advertising of O'Connor-Moffitt & Co in San Francisco

FRUIT CROP IN GOOD CONDITION

Growers in Good Humor Over Prospects of Coming Season.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 15.—Except for some slight bad effect from the abnormally light rainfall for the season, the present outlook is good for a large crop of deciduous fruits, and growers are generally in good humor about conditions The rains of the past few days have made things better, and the following forecast and report, made by deputies working for the State Horticultural Commissioner will be of interest

Almonds—The almond bloom was heavy, and the set thus far seems to be excellent Some frost damage has been reported.

Apples—The bloom bids fare to be excellent, and there seems to be abundant moisture in the larger apple growing sections

Apricots—Varying conditions have been noted The bloom in many districts was light, and considerable frost damage has been reported

Cherries—There is every indication of a good cherry crop

Peaches—The outlook for a good size peach crop would be very encouraging but for the lack of moisture in some sections The bloom is heavy and the set appears to be good

Pears—The outlook for a large pear crop is good

Plums—In a majority of the districts heard from, the bloom and set of shipping plums appear to be good

Prunes—The prune bloom is remarkably heavy, and the damage by thrips to date has not been excessive

Reports gathered by correspondents for the Union through the valley and given herewith, indicate actual conditions

SHOT BECAUSE HE REFUSED TO DRINK

WILLIAMS, Cal., April 15.—Dave Ryan, a night watchman shot "Squint" Todd, a ranch hand, through the neck in a saloon here. YOUNG AVIATOR SMASHES RECORD

Farnum T. Fish Flies From San Diego to Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, April 15.—Farnum T. Fish, the sixteen-year-old Los Angeles aviator, flew from San Diego to the Dominguez aviation field near here yesterday, making the entire flight over the Pacific ocean at an altitude of about 7000 feet. The flight was unannounced, and it is believed to have established a new record for over-ocean flying. The time was somewhat less than a mile a minute.

Fish left the aviation field at North island at 11.26 o'clock without announcing his attention except to telegraph his parents here that he was going to "fly home." When Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fish arrived at the aviation field after a fast automobile drive from their home their son Farnum had arrived.

The young aviator's hands and feet were benumbed by the cold when he landed. During the entire flight he said that he had remained above the clouds until opposite San Pedro, where he left the ocean. He explained to his parents that he wanted to save the expense of shipping his Wright biplane by freight and his own car fare. He figured the cost of his journey at $1 40, all for gasoline. In addition to having been unaccompanied by a safety contest of boats, young Fish did not even wear a life belt.

NEVADA PROSPECTOR DIES.

OROVILLE, April 15.—Thomas Rockhill, who after years of prospecting achieved a fortune in Nevada, died here today. He made the first big strike at Ely. Mr Rockhill at one time served as a state senator.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

MISS MOISSANT IS NEAR DEATH IN HER FINAL FLIGHT

Aviatrix Caught in Wreck of Burning Aeroplane; Clothing Catches.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., April 15.—The farewell flight of her aviation career, which Miss Mathilde Moissant had announced she would make here yesterday afternoon, came near causing her death In landing after her flight Miss Moissant's machine struck a ridge of earth just outside the baseball park, where the flights took place, and bounced high in the air. It came down right side up with the young woman still safe in her seat, but the framework crumpled like a leaf from the impact. In an instant the wreckage was ablaze and before the aviatrix could escape her clothing was on fire.

Help was near at hand and the young woman was dragged from her perilous position by Andre Houpert, an aviator. The blazing clothes were extinguished before she had sustained serious injury. The machine was practically a total loss.

The crowd sat stunned and horror-stricken until it was seen that Miss Moissant was unharmed. Among the spectators was a sister of the aviatrix. Miss Louise Moissant. She bore up bravely until she reached her sister's side, when she fainted.

Miss Moissant announced early last week that her flights here would be her last, as she would retire permanently from the aviation field.

Had Many Loves

NEW YORK, April 15.—A most amazing story of many love affairs, stretching across the continent and sometimes carried on simultaneously in different cities, will be told on Thursday at the inquest in the case of Walter J. Snyder, who was killed last Sunday by scissors in the hands of Mary S. Karns in the apartment occupied by them.

The woman says that he was stabbed during a scuffle. He had seized her hands and drew her toward him suddenly. As he did this the scissors opened and the blades entered his breast, she says.

A search for evidence to discredit the woman's story has yielded little, but in the course of it the police have discovered that Snyder's thirty-six years of life were crowded with romance. He had been successively a jockey, race-track tout, bartender, fair manager, gambler and sporting writer, and seems to have possessed himself of a new wife or affinity almost every year since he reached maturity.

There is little doubt in the minds of the authorities that Snyder committed bigamy on several occasions.

Quarrel Is Fatal

SACRAMENTO, April 15.—In a desperate knife and revolver duel over Adia Rebolcada, a pretty Spanish girl at 329 M street last night, Marshal Sabala, a Mexican, was shot and fatally wounded by Joe Acension, who was arrested.

After the shooting Sabala, with three serious wounds in his body, ran to his home, where he was found lying on the sidewalk weakened by the loss of blood. Sabala went to call on the woman last night and a few minutes later Acension walked into the house. Sabala told Acension to leave the house, as the two had been rivals for some time. Acension refused and the fight began.

Aids Wooers

CHICAGO, April 15.—Good roads as a means of promoting courtship in the rural districts were advocated by Bishop Samuel Fallows in an address before the Illinois Women's state good roads convention.

"Of course, the man who is desperately in love will not be kept from the object of his affections by poor roads, but there are many estimable young men of faint heart who might be deterred in their courting by muddy roads," said Bishop Fallows.

"This is especially true in the country when the roads are often impassable after heavy rains. Good roads are necessary first to make courtship easy. After courtship comes the home, and the home supports the church. So you see that the matter of good roads is really of great importance."

Tries to End Life

PORTLAND, April 15.—Declaring that she would rather die by her own hand than be murdered upon her release after the trial of Wong Si Sam and Lew Soon, charged with the alleged murder of Seid Bing, a member of the prominent Seid family of this city, last December, Oi Sen, the Chinese slave girl, whose testimony is expected to be of great value to the prosecution last night in the city jail drank a pint of benzine in an effort to commit suicide.

The prompt action of jail attendants in administering emetics saved Oi Sen's life. The woman later was removed to a hospital The woman frequently has said that she would not be allowed to live after she has given her testimony and has been released from the custody of the court.

May Strike

LONDON, April 15.—London chorus girls, following the miners' example, now demand a minimum wage. Their cause is being championed by the Amalgamated Musicians' Union, which circularized all theatrical managers, setting forth what the fair chorus girls want and mean to get. This is a minimum salary of $7 for six evening performances and a dollar for each matinee.

Women Drown

AMOY, April 15.—A boat into which the passengers of the British steamer Seang Chung were disembarking capsized yesterday and forty persons, mostly women, were drowned. The Seang Chung had just arrived here from Singapore.

Nerve Saves Boy

LOS ANGELES April 15.—Miss Clare Wilson, an 18 year old nurse at the county hospital, injected antitetanus serum yesterday into the brain of Hartley Caldwell, a high school student, because the doctor was not equal to the task

Miss Wilson, noting the nervous trembling of the physician's hand, which held the syringe, requested that she be allowed to use the hypodermic. Contact with the brain would have been fatal

When the operation was completed Miss Wilson broke down from the nervous strain.

SHOULD WOMEN SMOKE?

By Lillian Russell

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

THERE seems to be a great deal of unnecessary agitation upon the subject of whether women should smoke, and yards of advice have been offered by the prejudiced writers, balanced by yards of defense from the smokers themselves, both male and female. It does not seem to me a subject that should be given such great importance. The use of tobacco among women is more unhealthy than unbecoming. It is equally unhealthy to men, and to girls and boys it is fatal.

Surely women do not look attractive behind a cigarette, even in Europe, where they smoke freely at luncheons and dinners and in public restaurants. In France it is not uncommon to see old ladies take out their own brand of cigarettes after a luncheon, pass them around among the young girls and women, and all smoke openly and freely. But it seems to be an unnecessary and unbeautiful thing to do even in France and England. And in our own country it looks particularly vulgar for women to smoke in public.

What women do in the privacy of their own homes is their own business and pleasure and cannot be criticised. There are many in this country who can remember some maternal ancestor who smoked a pipe, even if she did sit in the chimney corner and blow the smoke up the chimney. Years ago before dentistry was so perfected old people, both women and men, believed that tobacco preserved the teeth. I am informed by a great physician that tobacco smoke vitiates the air we breathe, and to sit in the room where men are smoking fills the lungs and bronchial tubes with poison, which is far more dangerous to the non-smoker than to the smokers themselves. The poisons contained in cigars and cigarettes are nicotine, carbonate of ammonia, prussic acid and collidine. The quantity of nicotine and other poison principles absorbed is greatest when the smoker inhales the smoke. Two or three drops of nicotine will instantly kill animals and doses infinitely smaller will produce symptoms of paralysis and death.

LILLIAN RUSSELL

The effects of the tobacco smoke alone to the non-smoker are troubles of eyesight, palpitation of the heart and vertigo. One should shun this dangerous poison everywhere, whether from coal gas from stoves, from illuminating gas or from gas of sewers. If it does not kill it leaves its pernicious effects, nervous troubles, irregular pulsation of the heart, partial paralysis, inflammation of respiratory organs and weakness of the bowels, etc.

The man or woman who will smoke in the room with an infant takes a deliberate chance of killing the child, for such a little life can easily be put out of existence by tobacco smoke and bad ventilation.

I do not think that the act of smoking should be sexed. But I do say that women should have too much regard for their health and appearance to descend to the habit of smoking. That the act of smoking is a comfort is purely imagination, which is proved by the fact that no one can enjoy smoking in total darkness. A man must see the smoke wreaths to enjoy the smoke.

But the burning question, "Shall women smoke?" seriously treated as if it were some great question and some highly given prerogative of the male sex, is absurd on the face of it. If men smoke at home and fill the rooms with poison, why shouldn't women do it also, if they so please? I do not think that refined and lovely American women will ever make a habit of smoking publicly, even though they may be intimate friends of the many titled women in England who smoke in the public dining-rooms of the numerous hotels.

I have seen hostesses light a cigarette at a dinner party where her lady guests smoked, but simply on the same principal of etiquette that would compel her to drink out of a finger bowl if one of her guests did so by mistake. Smoking is an extravagant intemperance, just as unbecoming as drinking is to a beautiful woman. Remember, the privilege does not necessitate an unbecoming act.

Lillian Russell

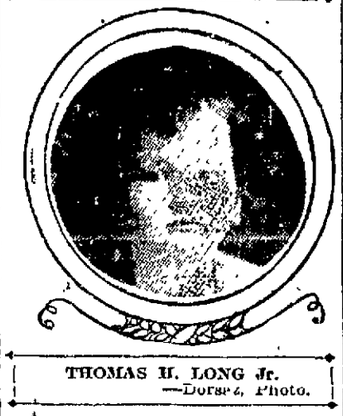

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

A WIDOW—Unless you want a heavy growth of hair on your face, do not under any consideration use olive oil to fatten the face. The oil is entirely too heavy. A good skin food is better, and will not cause a growth of hair. Apply the skin food at night, massaging it into the skin, and then leave a portion on over night. This will fatten your face.

N. M.—Plain yellow vaseline is good for stimulating the growth of the eyelashes and eyebrows. Apply melted vaseline with a small brush to the roots of the lashes every night for a month or so. Be exceedingly careful not to get any of it into your eye, for oil of any kind irritates the eye. Thick lips usually come from mouth breathing or biting the lips. If you bite your lips, break yourself of the habit, for it not only spoils the texture of the lips, but makes them thick and colorless. Send me an addressed stamped envelope, and I shall send you a formula for a French tonic for lashes and brows and also a formula for reducing the lips.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

PANAMA CANAL BOY LIVES HERE

THOMAS H. LONG Jr.
—Dorsey, Photo.

Thomas Hamilton Long, Jr., the 4-year-old son of the former superintendent of the department of construction of the Panama canal, has the distinction of being born near the great canal. Recently he and his parents came to this city, where the youngster will receive his education. Frequently he speaks about the great waterway and urges his mother to return to the place of his birth. He is interested in machinery and it is probable that he will follow in the footsteps of his father, who specialized in mechanical work.

FAST GAMES PLAYED BY JUNIORS

By a score of 30 to 17 the girls' junior team of De Fremery park playground defeated the juniors of Tompkins playground last Friday afternoon in De Fremery park playground, Sixteenth and Adeline streets.

The girls on the Tompkins team who distinguished themselves were Ramona Ring and Alma Hulen. Those of the De Fremery team who showed marked ability at the bat were Thelma Roberts, Blanche Eden, Consula de Larveago and Alma Timm.

The lineup was as follows:

De Fremery—Consula de Laveago c, Thelma Roberts p, Majorie Rowlands 1b, Myra Lemmer 2b, Florence Paulson 3b, Blanche Eden ss, Irene Gould rf, Alma Timm cf.

Tompkins—Catherine Quirk c, Alma Hulen p, Sarah Pergoln 1b, Marie Musto 2b, May McLean 3b, Silas Semas ss, Martha Miller rf, Ramona Ring cf.

Perhaps the most exciting game that has taken place thus far in the girls' league was the game at Garfield on Saturday between the intermediate teams of Garfield and De Fremery. Both teams had played and won four league games and when they came together a very strenuous game was the result. At the end of the third inning the score stood 4 to 2 in favor of De Fremery. In the fourth inning De Fremery tallied nine runs.

The game ended with a score of 34 to 12 in favor of De Fremery. Following is the lineup of the two teams:

De Fremery—Elise Lancel p, May Halsey c, Helen Lancel 1b, Margaret Traynore 2b, Carrie Schwartz 3b, May Reilly rf, Carrie Carter lf.

Garfield—Millie Gilliland p, Esther Phelps c, Mary Heinatz 1b, Tilda Peterson 2b, Dorthy Webb 3b, Elsie Cooper rf, Margaret Ken lf.

RESULT OF GUESS.

On Saturday afternoon at De Fremery park the juniors crossed bats with the bantams. This game was the result of a proposal to shut the bantams out without a score. There was a great deal of interest in the game as the bantams had declared that they would score a run in the first inning. The juniors scored their guess, however, and were able to make good their boast by a score of 22 to 0. Bowen refereed the game.

Following is the lineup of the two teams:

Following this game the Tompkins juniors crossed bats with the De Fremery juniors in a spirited contest. The superior work of the De Fremery sluggers was evidenced in the score which tallied 25 to 6. The features of the game was the two home runs of Foley. The Tompkins team kept the hits well scattered throughout the nine innings.

Following is the lineup of the two teams:

YOUTHFUL EXPERT AT WIRELESS KILLED

LOS ANGELES, April 15.—Walter Craft, 19 years old, was electrocuted while installing a wireless telegraph outfit at his home. In order to connect up his aerial outfit young Craft threw a wire over an electric light wire and when he picked up the end 2200 volts of electricity passed through him. His father, Charles Craft, who was assisting him, chopped the wire in two with an axe, but the boy was dead when the task was completed. The doctors said that death was instantaneous.

LOST BALLOON PILOTED BY INEXPERIENCED MAN

COSSONAY, Switzerland, April 15.—The Swiss Aero club's gigantic balloon, St. Gothard, is somewhere far above the clouds with a man aboard who is totally ignorant of handling the air craft.

The balloon was returning from a flight with a pilot and three passengers. During an attempt to land, the basket was blown against a rock by a wind gust and the pilot and two of the passengers were thrown out.

Thus lightened the balloon shot up to a height of 15,000 feet and whirled away with the third passenger, a man who had just made his initial flight.

DORR WANTED IN CONNECTION WITH MURDER

STOCKTON MAN IS BEING SOUGHT

If Found Will Be Questioned Concerning Killing of George Marsh.

Motorcycle Man Disappears From San Joaquin City, Deserting Fiancee.

LYNN, Mass., April 14.—Chief of Police Thomas M. Burckes announced today that the man for whom Lynn inspectors are seeking in Maine and New York state and whom they wish to question in regard to the murder of George E. Marsh, the wealthy soap manufacturer, is W. A. Dorr, a motorcycle dealer of Stockton, Cal.

The first intimation that Dorr was in the East and had seen Marsh recently came, Chief Burckes said, from Chief of Police Briare of Stockton, who on the day after the murder telegraphed the Lynn police, asking if "a low-sized man had been seen recently with Marsh."

The inquiry which followed led to the discovery at Marsh's home of a letter written to him by another George Marsh of Stockton, supposed to be a nephew. In it the police say the writer referred to Dorr and asked Marsh not to indorse any notes for Dorr. Chief Burckes said he had learned that Dorr left Stockton March 14, and arrived in Boston March 24, and registered at a hotel as Willis A. Dow. Later he came to Lynn.

Dorr was acquainted with the family of the late James H. Marsh of Stockton, a brother of the murdered man. George E. Marsh was executor of his brother's estate.

An abandoned automobile with a 22-caliber automatic rifle in the bottom was found today in Boston. It is the theory of the police that Marsh's body was carried in an automobile to West Lynn.

LEAVES FIANCEE.

STOCKTON, April 15.—William E. Dorr left Stockton suddenly about four weeks ago, giving no one any intimation of his destination. His aunt, Miss Orpha Marsh, adopted daughter of the late James Marsh, brother of the murdered man, stated today that she had not the slightest idea as to where Dorr might be, having heard nothing from him since his departure. His fiancee, a Miss Berlingen, together with Miss Marsh, had employed a detective to locate him if possible, fearing that he had met with foul play.

Miss Marsh says she and his fiancee had told the inquisitive ones that he had gone east, but that was merely to stop inquiry, and save the young lady embarrassment; they did not know where he had gone.

Dorr is 29 years of age, businesslike in manner, about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches in height, thin face, a good singer and something of a musician. No trace of him has been found since he left here. His motorcycle was found at the steamer landing the day he left on the San Francisco boat. Miss Marsh denies that Dorr was financially embarrassed when he left here, though she admits that he had become disgusted with the actions of the young lady to whom he was engaged.

OLD MAN'S ASSAILANT CAUGHT AFTER CHASE

LOS ANGELES, April 15.—William Clemmens, 62 years old, was attacked and brutally beaten with a revolver in the hands of Charles M. Rapp, who says he is from San Francisco, at the old man's clothing store on West Seventh street yesterday. Rapp broke the gun over Clemmens' head, but the latter, though half stunned, chased him from the store.

After being chased a quarter of a mile by 200 men and boys, the assailant was caught by John Powell, secretary of the Fire Commission. Rapp explained the assault by saying that he recognized Clemmens as a conductor who put him off a train in Arizona some time ago. Clemmens has never worked on a railroad, and says Rapp intended to rob him.

CALIFORNIA'S RICHEST WOMAN TO WED

MISS CROCKER ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT

MISS JENNIE CROCKER, the California heiress, who has announced her betrothal to Malcolm D. Whitman.

Heiress Will Be Bride of Malcolm D. Whitman, Lawyer and Former American Tennis Player

Miss Jennie Adeline Crocker, California's wealthiest woman, has announced her engagement to Malcolm D. Whitman of New York and Brookline, Mass, former American tennis champion. The news was made public yesterday by the brother of the bride-to-be, Charles Templeton Crocker, while the wires from the East were conveying the same news from New York.

Miss Crocker is in the metropolis where Whitman, who is a lawyer of independent means is practicing. He was formerly married to Miss Janet McCook, a chum of Miss Crocker, in April, 1907, and Miss Crocker was bridesmaid at the wedding. Mrs. Whitman died in New York, December, 1907, a few days after the birth of a son.

Whitman and Miss Crocker have been thrown into each other's society many times since the death of Mrs. Whitman.

HER WEALTH MANY MILLIONS.

Miss Crocker, who was 25 years of age February 24, possesses a fortune estimated at from $9,000,000 to $12,000,000. In 1906, when she and her brother, Templeton, divided their heritage, each received $5,000,000. In the seven years since that time the growth in realty values and the development of the estate through the counsel of Henry T. Scott, trustee of the Crocker estate, has doubled it. While in England during the coronation Miss Crocker was the most sought after American girl among all those who crossed the Atlantic at that time, and her wealth and family have placed her among those at the pinnacle of American society.

WHITMAN HARVARD MAN.

Whitman is a Harvard graduate, class of '98. He won the American tennis championship that year, and again in 1899 and 1900. Then, not caring to devote so much of his time to the sport, he relinquished the championship and set himself to the practice of law.

It is understood that the couple intend to divide their time between the East and California, and the Hillsborough dwellers were told yesterday that Miss Crocker, who has for years been one of the most prominent members of the "Burlingame set," would, with her husband make use annually of the 150 acre estate purchased from Will Tevis not long ago by the heiress when her brother Templeton married Miss Helene Irwin and took over to his exclusive use "Uplands," the old Crocker home behind San Mateo.

Perhaps the greatest public notice ever given any activity of Miss Crocker's was caused by the disappearance of a $50,000 necklace of perfect pearls from the St. Francis hotel during a society Mardi gras ball February 23, 1909. It was reported afterward, on excellent authority, that Miss Crocker had deposited the jewels in a safe in the suite occupied by the Walter Martins at the St. Francis, then forgotten about it, and had not recalled it until after the alarm had been given and the story spread around the nation. Miss Crocker denied this, but did not prosecute the search for the pearls.

ANNOUNCEMENT IN NEW YORK.

Miss Crocker arrived in New York about a week ago and registered at the Hotel Gotham, but since then has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, at 4 West Forty-eighth street, through whom the announcement was made there.

Miss Crocker's friends here recall a dispatch from Omaha published just before Easter stating that she was delayed by the floods and was greatly vexed, because she wished to reach New York by Easter in time to take part in the Easter festivities. The truth is revealed, however, for Miss Crocker since her arrival there has been busy purchasing her wedding trousseau.

Beyond the simple announcement of the engagement nothing of the immediately future plans of the pair are given out.

Malcolm Whitman is the son of William Whitman of Boston, head of the firm of William Whitman & Co.

BURGLAR STEALS HYPO SYRINGE

Home of Secretary Marks of Peoples Water Company Is Entered.

BERKELEY, April 15. — The residence of S. M. Marks, secretary and treasurer of the Peoples Water company, at 2741 Dwight way was looted by a burglar last night, a part of whose booty consisted of one hypodermic syringe. The man was at his work when Dr. Lewis Arnold, stepson of Marks entered the house, and escaped by a rear window on the second floor, dropping several feet to the ground.

Jewelry and silverware were stolen by the intruder, who gained entry to the house by jimmying the front door. Dr. Arnold entered the residence late in the evening and discovered the presence of the burglar. The latter, hearing his approach on the stairs, opened a rear window and escaped. Dr. Arnold reported the burglary to the police. The man's loot amounted to several hundred dollars.

The same burglar entered the residence of Miss Nellie Hollingsworth at 2555 Hearst street where he stole jewelry worth $15.

$550 VALUE OF BURGLAR'S BOOTY

Large Quantity of Silverware and Jewelry Stolen From Residence.

Silverware valued at over $400 and jewelry valued at about $150 were taken from the residence of R. W. Westover, 3355 Fruitvale avenue, by burglars who broke into the place last night. Entrance was effected by forcing the rear door of the house. Cabinets, bureaus, desks and chiffoniers were broken open and the contents turned out upon the floor by the thieves in search for plunder. Everything of value that was of a portable nature was taken from the house.

The police were notified and an extensive search for the burglars is being made. The men are believed to be professional crooks.

C. S. Wody of 936 Delaware street, Berkeley, reported to the police this morning that while attending a performance at a Ninth street theater in Oakland his pocket was picked, a purse containing $14 being taken. Wody could give no description of the thief.

LOCAL OPTION ELECTION TO BE HELD

Liquor Question to Be Voted on May 1 in Three Townships.

Livermore and Pleasanton Are Excepted in Election Call.

Resolutions calling for a special local option election to be held in Supervisorial District No. 1, on May 21, were adopted by the supervisors today.

The call is the result of a petition presented to the board several weeks ago. The question on the ballot will be:

"Shall the sale of alcoholic liquor be licensed in this supervisorial district outside incorporated cities and towns? Yes or No."

Washington, Pleasanton and Murray townships will be affected with the exception of the towns of Livermore and Pleasanton.

Precincts were determined and election officers appointed in the call for the election which was prepared by Deputy District Attorney Leon S. Clark.

At the same time Clark rendered a formal opinion that the local option question could not be held on the same date as the presidential primaries unless an entirely different set of officers were appointed and separate ballots used. In view of the fact that there could, therefore, be no saving of expense it was deemed advisable not to confuse the matter by holding the elections on the same day, so the special election was called.

TOWN IS SWEPT BY RAGING FLOOD

Tallulah, La., Is Under Water From Mississippi Levee Break.

Thousands Homeless and the Streets Full of Boats Carrying Goods.

TALLULAH, La., April 15.—As far as the eye can reach from the highest point in Tallulah nothing but water can be seen. The Mississippi flood tide, escaped from a break in the levee near Alsatia, is sweeping through the town like a millrace. Many buildings are afloat. Scores of persons now are homeless.

A mile and a half north of the Iron Mountain railroad the water is up to the cross arms on the telegraph poles. It is impossible to estimate the monetary loss.

Thousands of cattle, sheep and hogs will perish before the flood ceases. Thousands of acres of land, much of it already planted, are ruined.

Before the water came Sunday morning there was a boat on nearly every porch or in the yard. Now the streets are full of boats and rafts carrying household goods to places of safety or getting persons out of their submerged houses.

PRESIDENT SENDS MESSAGE.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—President Taft sent to Congress today a special message urging the immediate appropriation of amount aggregating nearly $788,000 for use in controlling the floods of the Mississippi river and to aid flood sufferers.

WOMAN HANGS SELF; FOUND SWINGING BY HER HUSBAND

Suffering From Mental Trouble, Mrs. Mary Mark Ends Her Life

After suffering since the birth of her second baby, several months ago, from extreme melancholia, Mrs. Mary Mark, wife of William Mark, a watchman in the employ of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, committed suicide last night by hanging herself from a rafter at her home, 2021 Ninth avenue, East Oakland.

The body was found swinging from the rope by her husband this morning when he returned from his night's work at the company's plant. The coroner was called by neighbors and the body removed to the morgue.

Mrs. Mark, before her marriage several years ago, was Miss Margaret Bullock of Alameda, and comes of a well known family in the Encinal City. Her brother, John Bullock, is a well known plumbing contractor.

As a child Mrs. Mark had an attack of melancholia and several times threatened to commit suicide. After the birth of her second baby this trouble reappeared. She was examined a short time ago by a lunacy commission, which pronounced her sane, and later underwent a similar examination at the Merritt Hospital, after several days of unbalanced mental condition. She threatened several times to commit suicide, according to neighbors.

Several days ago her daughter, Mary, age 4 years, and the baby, were taken away by relatives, who declared that in her condition she was unable to care for them. This seemed to increase her trouble.

Mrs. Mark is survived by her husband, two children and several brothers and sisters in Alameda and Elmhurst. An inquest will be held.

Can Girl Throw Ball? Broken Nose Is Answer

VENICE, Cal., April 15.—"I never saw a girl yet who could throw a ball hard," was the taunt directed at Miss Ruby Dunn, a young society woman of Santa Monica, by Oscar Hidinger, while romping on the beach yesterday. Miss Dunn hurled the baseball at Hidinger with all of her strength. He failed to stop it with his hands and it struck his nose, breaking that member. Hidinger did not know that Miss Dunn holds the world's baseball throwing record for women, with a toss of 201 feet.

CHICAGO PIT IS SCENE OF RIOT

Buyers and Sellers Whipsawed in Wheat During Exciting Day.

Reports of Great Crop Damage Come From All Over Middle West.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Buyers and sellers alike were whipsawed today in wheat. The market swiftly whirled up and down, and up again over a range of nearly 4 cents. Trading reached a magnitude seldom equalled except in war times.

The news which had the greatest influence on the bull side of the market was from a crop expert who had previously been disposed to minimize the effect of winter killing in the soft winter wheat states. Today he telegraphed from Decatur, Ill., that between there and Mattoon practically all wheat was dead; that the fields were perfectly bare and would have to be planted in oats and corn.

On the other hand the bears pointed out that at Liverpool and elsewhere prices had not risen in anything like the degree recorded in Chicago and that, according to conservative standards it was too early fully to determine the damage.

MAY WHEAT SPINS.

May wheat spun in astonishing fashion over a limit of prices, bounded by 107½ below to 110½ on top.

In less than a single quarter of an hour both levels were reached, but there was no stability at either, nor at any point between. The greater persistency was shown perhaps in the return of the market to the upper plane.

Statements which attracted much notice were that there was not one good field from Plymouth, Ind., to Logansport, and that where drill rows shows at all it was only as brown stubble. In La Prable, Montgomery and Clark counties, Ohio, it was asserted that out of fifty-two farms examined thirty-four were entirely dead.

Damage reports also were received from Nebraska. In consequence the market veered more strongly to the bull side and hit as high as 111½ for May and 107⅝@107¾ for July, gains of more than 1½ cents above the topmost figures of Saturday.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Antone Casiar, 25 years old, was called to the door of his home on the West Side early today and stabbed to death. Three men were seen running away from the house. It is believed the slayers were Italians, with whom Casiar had quarreled over a card game in a saloon a few hours before.

MANY ARE ARRESTED IN CHINATOWN RAIDS

Ah Fong was arrested on a charge of conducting a lottery, and was released on $300 bail. Visitors ta his place forfeited $110.

OAKLAND WILL HAVE BONDED WAREHOUSE

Treasury Department Grants Request of Collector of Customs.

Goods May Now Be Stored at This Sub-Port Until Needed.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Oakland is to have a bonded warehouse under the supervision of the collector of customs of the port of San Francisco and a long-felt need on the part of the city of the East Bay Shore has just been relieved."

An order was received today from the treasury department permitting the storage of dutiable merchandise in the custom's office at the sub-port of Oakland.

The duties on goods stored in the customs office need not be paid until they are removed. Oakland has long been without a regular bonded warehouse, the expense of a private individual operating such a concern being too great. Collector Frederick Stratton of this city therefore recommended that there was sufficient space in the Oakland office, approximately 60 square feet, to constitute in and of itself a bonded warehouse which will be directly under the control of the deputy there.

TO PROVE CONVENIENT.

The convenience to Oakland merchants by this arrangement, as well as to business men of Berkeley and Alameda and Richmond, will be greatly served by this arrangement. Any of them hereafter desiring to import merchandise, and not caring to pay the duties until they are ready to sell them are allowed to have them stored in the custom's office just the same as they would in a bonded warehouse.

The impetus given to the foreign trade of Oakland, which is quite extensive, by this arrangement can be readily realized. It will now be possible for merchants to import goods from foreign countries directly to Oakland without reference at all to the port of San Francisco.

Deputy Collector Frank W. Cushing of Oakland who is a veteran of the Civil War has been ill for some time and because of his faithful services the collector has allowed him an indefinite leave of absence on full pay.

Thomas E. Hearty has been appointed acting deputy collector and will have direct charge of the warehouse now established during the absence of Cushing.

PROPOSED BEACH RESORT MEETS BIG BOOST

Alameda County's Prominent Men Rally to Support of Plans.

OAKLAND'S AID IS PROMISED MOVEMENT

Meeting in Neptune Gardens Pavilion Is One of Great Enthusiasm.

ALAMEDA, April 15. — Three hundred Alamedans attended the meeting in the Neptune Gardens pavilion yesterday afternoon to boost the proposition for a great amusement enterprise on the site of the old gardens. The public meeting was called to lend wide publicity to the scheme. A company was incorporated for $1,000,000 last week to carry out the undertaking on a big scale.

C. R. Smith presided and introduced each speaker with a few appropriate remarks. In introducing Harvey M. Toy, he sketched briefly the history of the various successful transactions with which Toy had been identified. He told of the long months of work that had been devoted to bringing the project to its present state, of the money that had already been expended and of the hundreds of thousands that were to be poured directly and indirectly into Alameda as a result of the culmination of the present plans for making Alameda's beaches the greatest pleasure resort in the country.

Harvey Toy, who for the present is taking the leading role in the cast that is to make the beaches the play place of the multitudes, said that it is the present endeavor of the company, incorporated Saturday morning for $1,000,000 to gain the moral and some financial support of the people of this city.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED.

"We want a great many to become interested in this movement," he said, "for it is only through co-operation that we can make a success of anything we undertake.

"None of us fully realize the beauty of the south shore. It has been going to waste for years and years, and it is the purpose of this company to arrest this waste—to make the beaches play the part in the commercial life of the city that nature has destined they should.

"People will come to see, and coming to see will remain to reside," he continued. "We want to make this a moral as well as financial factor to the city, and the greater number that is interested the greater will be its success from both viewpoints."

Toy went on to explain the plans of the company to improve and reclaim its 37 acres of land, to establish bathing parks and pavilions, amusements, concessions, a marine glass enclosed cafe of the highest order, a scenic marine railway, a white city, a Coney Island on an elevating scale.

A. A. Denison, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, said:

"I am glad to be with you on a common ground. The fulfillment of this project will mean not only an advertisement to Alameda, but to Oakland, to Alameda county and to the entire central section of the State. There is no bathing beach in California that can compare with that of the south side of this island city. Here you have the proper climatic conditions, the gentle slope, no dangerous undertow. The sun bakes the sand during the period of low water, and the sun baked sand warms the water and makes bathing a privilege.

"We of Oakland feel that we have just as much interest in this enterprise as have you. We are ready to help you with our thousands of people. There is no bathing resort in the State of California that has nearly the number of people to call on for its support as have you here. From Richmond to Hayward, including the great centers of population of Alameda county alone you have over a half million of people, many of whom will flock to your shores if you provide the attractions. These people are all in reach of the point where we now are through the medium of the local trains for a single fare.

"In behalf of the people of Oakland, the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and the people of the entire county, I offer you the outstretched hand of co-operation in this movement—that is what I pledge you today."

PRAISES ENTERPRISE.

H. Rosenthal, president of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, said:

"If I were to sum up the feelings and impressions of all those to whom I have presented this matter I would have to say that it is the finest thing that has ever come up in this city, and as president of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce and knowing the temperament of the members and directors, I pledge you their financial and moral support.

"I have often come down to our beaches, settled myself in the sand and allowed my imagination to soar. I have dreamed of a new crowd discovering Alameda, and I have pictured the beaches and amusements that would be discovered with the city. It is an extremely gratifying moment to me today to know that Alameda has been discovered and discovered by Alamedans."

Rosenthal reviewed the history of the beaches, of the city and of the Chamber of Commerce. He told of the success that the local body was meeting with in its advertisement of Alameda, and of the good that was resulting.

J. S. Daveler was the next speaker. [illegible] this thing will not only enrich us, but also our children. It is going to make us known throughout the [illegible]."

Daveler told of the success of Denver and Salt Lake when those cities decided to get alive. He also recited an incident of a knocker who arrived in Tonopah and complained that there was no green thing to be seen. The people, after much care and labor had induced a rubber tree to grow — it had three green leaves, and they were so incensed over the knock that they made the kicker get down on his knees and apologize to the tree and then there being no limb on the lone tree of sufficient strength to hang him on, threw him down a deserted shaft with a bunch of rattlesnakes.

HISTORY OF BEACHES.

Walter Cooley told the history of the beaches. He reviewed the chronicles of the city when the old gardens were running at their height, and said:

"I have watched their decadence. Some people say that Alameda is a city of [illegible], and that we don't want any business or any amusements. There are [illegible] some of the people who go as far as to knock the electric lights, and the [illegible] that is necessary in their operation, because, they say, 'We go to bed at 9 o'clock, and don't need any light.'"

Cooley recited the history of the town of Revere, Massachusetts, where, he said, the people of Boston now flock by the thousands. He said that there were not [illegible] the opportunities there that there are in Alameda, and that we are aiming to get the opportunities that nature [illegible] upon us [illegible].

[illegible] was followed by Wilbur Walker, [illegible] of the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland. Walker said:

"I don't regard this as an Alameda enterprise or an Oakland enterprise at all; it is one for the whole county, for this [illegible] section of the State.

"I have been for 10 years a county [illegible], and I have often remarked that the strangest thing that ever came within my notice was the lethargy manifested on the part of Alameda to its greatest potential resource. Take hold of this thing, make it a success, and you will have the whole State behind you.

"Oakland is building up vast hotels, they are to be summer as well as winter hotels and the proprietors and those interested need Alameda and Alameda's possible attractions for their guests."

PLANS DISPLAYED.

William Rogers, architect for the park company, showed the plans already drawn, including bathing pavilions, beaches, boat houses, steamer landings, cafe, concessions, etc., in numerous groups.

Charles Powell announced that he had been dead for 40 years, but that all of a sudden he had come to life. He had come so much to life, that he wanted the people to have the benefit of it, and declared that he would run for mayor at the next municipal election. Powell declared that the day was past for the knocker. He said that when he saw the picture of the proposed park he decided at once that it was the greatest thing that would ever have happened for Alameda. Powell declared that he was impressed with the project that he would take a contract for the construction of the place and take all his profits in stock in the corporation.

George Fulton followed. He said that the proposition was one of the greatest things in the United States for Alameda. He alluded to the coming bond issue and said that $200,000 was not enough — that the city should be bonded for $2,000,000 and the beaches improved. He declared that the revenue would be sufficient to pay the bonds off in five years and defray all the taxes of the town.

John W. Wilkens said that he was glad to see the revival of spirit in the people. "There are some knockers," he said, "but the thing to do is to go to it and don't care what the other fellow says. We have been struggling to get business here; this is a proposition to get. We are all behind you."

C. C. Volberg declared that he was glad to at last see the movement looking to the improvement of the beaches going ahead. He prophesied success for the enterprise.

J. Sherman McDowell said the people that he was glad to see a movement like the present one properly taken hold of. He declared that the movement if carried out could not fail.

C. A. Borle, of the North Side Improvement club spoke enthusiastically of the project. He declared that it would be a great pleasure to himself and to his club to help boost the plans of the new company.

Councilman Arthur Morgenstern was also an ardent advocate of the movement. He said that his voice would never be too feeble to give utterance to anything that will advance the interests of the city.

"This affair, if advanced and promulgated, will not only add to the beauty but to the health of the city as well," he declared.

Walter Murphy of the Alameda Improvement club was full of enthusiasm. He declared that he had been all over the State and neighboring States but that he had never seen opportunities neglected as they have been in Alameda in connection with her beaches. He said that this project if carried out would only be a forerunner of great things to come that would result in the old town taking on a new aspect.

At the close of the meeting pictures of the proposed park from an aviator's viewpoint were distributed to the audience.

Mountfort was first introduced to the American public by Henry Ward Beecher.

BERKELEY GIRL WINS HIGH HONOR IN NEW YORK CITY

MISS FLORA CHAMBERS of Berkeley, winner of scholarship in contest at Art Students' League, in New York City.

BERKELEY, April 15.—Miss Flora Chambers, formerly a student at the California Guild of Arts and Crafts in this city, has won the 1912 scholarship in the Art Students' League of New York. The competition for the scholarship was recently held there and Miss Chambers was successful among nearly 300 competitors.

As the selection is the result of the judgment of well-known artists, the compliment to Miss Chambers and the Arts and Crafts School where she received her training, is greatly appreciated.

Miss Chambers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chambers of Hillegass avenue, Berkeley, and has been a student of the local school for the past three years.

Other students of this school who have received recognition from outside sources are Miss Maud Lanktree, now studying at the Art Students' League, New York, and Miss Lora Hyde in Paris, who had two pictures accepted at Le Salon, 1911.

BRUCHMANN FREED AT EXAMINATION

Court Holds He Is Doing Best He Is Allowed to to Aid His Family.

ALAMEDA, April 15. — Judge Aaron Turner of Oakland, sitting for Judge R. B. Tappan, today dismissed the charge of failure to provide brought against R. L. Bruchmann by his ex-wife, Mrs. Lilian Bruchmann. The court said, before dismissing the case, that from the testimony submitted he believed that Bruchmann was doing as well for his children as could be expected. The judge added that he was not fully informed as to all the facts governing this and the other Bruchmann court appearances, but that he judged from the testimony and the statements of Bruchmann's attorney, that Bruchmann was being handicapped by the fight being waged against him and that probably Bruchmann would do more for his children if left unhampered and given fuller opportunity.

After the hearing Mrs. Bruchmann declared that she was not persecuting her ex-husband but was simply trying to get a square deal for her children. She added that she could prove by letters written to her by Bruchmann that Bruchmann was the persecutor and had harassed her, her mother, Mrs. K. Arnold, and the children.

Mrs. Bruchmann, while on the stand, said that she owned the property where she and Mrs. Arnold live, at 2159 Clinton avenue, subject to a large mortgage. She said she came into the property by a divorce court decree. She added that though she owned the property the home was supported by Mrs. Arnold, who paid all bills for the entire household.

Bruchmann did not go on the stand. His brother, H. E. Bruchmann, testified that R. L. Bruchmann was no longer the owner of the typewriter business in San Francisco but was working for $15 a week. R. L. Bruchmann, the brother said, owned the business until his domestic trouble caused a demoralized condition which resulted in a corporation being formed to take over the business.

Evidence was introduced showing that Bruchmann had paid $25 last month and $56 in February. This $56 included money spent by Bruchmann on the younger child at the time of the alleged kidnaping, when Bruchmann bought the baby $20 of clothing. Mrs. Bruchmann acknowledged the receipt of $15 for each of the three months, September, October and December, 1911. In January she was sent about $35 in several different amounts.

Mrs. Bruchmann said that most of the checks sent by Bruchmann went to the bank to pay interest on the mortgage on the house.

GROUND BROKEN FOR NEW SCHOOLS

Richmond to Have Up-to-Date Building for Dissemination of Learning.

RICHMOND, April 15. — Ground was broken this morning for the two new grammar school buildings that are to be erected here during the summer to provide adequate facilities for the growth of the grammar schools of the city. One building will be erected on Tenth street on the site of what is now known as the Tenth street school house, while the other building will be erected on a site recently purchased at the intersection of Richmond and Montana avenues.

Arthur Arlett is the contractor for the new Tenth street school building which, when completed, will cost $70,000, while Stockholm & Allyn of San Francisco will erect the Richmond avenue school at a cost of $65,000.

Both buildings will be of reinforced concrete, the Tenth street school having sixteen rooms and the Richmond avenue school fourteen.

The money for the two new buildings was raised at a bond election held here some months ago, when $160,000 was voted for school improvements. Of this sum $8000 was paid for a site for the Richmond avenue school while the cost of the two new school buildings will reach a total of $135,000. The remainder of the money raised by the bond issue will be used by the board of education in purchasing additional school sites in the section of the city east of the Southern Pacific right of way.

WITHDRAWS FROM DIRECTORS' RACE

RICHMOND, April 15.—Mrs. Katherine Smith, who was recently nominated as a candidate in the election to be held May 4th of two members of the Board of Education today announced that she would withdraw as a candidate owing to the fact that it had been announced that she was a candidate of the club women of the city when, as a matter-of-fact, she represented no particular set nor had the indorsement of the clubs of which she is a member.

Mrs. Virginia Geoghegan, who presented a nomination petition at the same time Mrs. Smith was nominated, is still in the fight for election, however, and whether or not an atack will be made upon Superintendent W. T. Helms, as was first announced when it was known that the women were in the field, is a question that is causing considerable speculation here today as the result of the action of Mrs. Smith.

The withdrawal of Mr. Smith leaves four candidates in the field for the four-year term of school trustee, E. L. Jones, the incumbent, A. H. Burnett, L. W. Thole and Mrs. Virginia Geoghegan. J. O. Ford, incumbent candidate for the six-year term, has Joe Baker as an opponent, Baker being nominated by the Socialist party.

RICHMOND RAILROAD FRANCHISE UP TONIGHT

RICHMOND, April 15.—At a meting of the city council tonight considerable interest doubtless will be manifested in the awarding of the franchise for an interurban railroad over Cutting boulevard and Tenth street petitioned for by H. C. Cutting. It is said that both the Southern Pacific and Key Route companies have become interested in the plans of Cutting and that if he secures the franchise it will be the outbidding both of these big corporations. Cutting boulevard and Tenth street are two of the most important thoroughfares in the city over which franchises for street railways have not been granted.

BISHOP DID NOT DO WOMEN INJUSTICE

REV. HUGHES MISQUOTED AT BALTIMORE

BISHOP EDWIN H. HUGHES.

In Address Divine Spoke of California Women's Influence for Good in Church

EDITOR OAKLAND TRIBUNE: The California press has published recently statements concerning remarks made by Bishop Edwin H. Hughes in an address at the Baltimore Methodist Social Union, which are entirely false and do him great injustice.

The address from which these alleged quotations are made was given March 21, before the Baltimore Methodist Social Union on "The Democracies of Methodism." I was present on this occasion and heard the address. Not a single word criticising woman suffrage in California was uttered; not a single statement was made by Bishop Hughes, either direct or by implication, reflecting upon the intelligence or character of womanhood.

His exact words, which I quote from the full text, were as follows:

"If the church is to have any wide definition of the word 'democracy' it must take note of the democracy of sex. No church is really democratic that reaches and cultivates one sex more effectively than it does the other. In some points of the debate about 'woman's sphere' I frankly confess myself a conservative. Recently we have carried woman suffrage in California; the editorial 'we' here implying no complicity on my part for I voted against the amendment. This, however, is not the time to discuss woman suffrage at length. Let me say, however, that I feel genuine contempt for that male conceit that sometimes argues against the ballot for women on the ground that women lack intelligence. This is sheer nonsense. But even if we take the ground that we do not have a true democracy of sex because women are not in our ministry, we must still admit that women are effective in our councils and still more effective in our influences."

If you are interested in the facts in this case, you are at liberty to make any use of the above statement which may serve your purpose.

Very truly,
GEORGE R. GROSE,
Pastor Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore, Md.
April 10, 1912.

POUNDMAN'S WIFE BADLY TREATED

Cursed and Beaten When She Assumes Task of Her Husband.

BERKELEY, April 15. — Mrs. Peter Rogers, wife of the poundman, attempted yesterday afternoon in her husband's absence to take care of two violators of city ordinances and received so ungallant handling from them that she proposes now to seek appointment as a special officer that, with the empowerment of the law, she may cope with future similar difficulties. Frank Olessi and Tessitor Vitor, bakery employes, were jailed and fined upon her complaint.

Rogers was absent from his office yesterday afternoon when a report arrived that a horse was wandering at large on University avenue. Mindful of her husband's duties, Mrs. Rogers set out at once to take up the animal. She had succeeded in haltering the horse when its owners, Olessi and Vitor, appeared.

After a bit of parley Olessi struck Mrs. Rogers and at the same moment Vitor, cursing her, jerked the halter from her grasp and made off with the horse in tow. Mrs. Rogers telephoned for police aid and Patrolman George Kohler took both men into custody. Olessi was fined this morning for battery and Vitor for disturbing the peace.

She was taken to her home in a buggy which happened along. Brand escaped with minor bruises. The pair had been out in the country for the day and were returning at the time of the accident. The motorcycle was badly damaged.

RECALL MEETINGS IN BERKELEY ARE ANNOUNCED

School Directors' Campaign Waxes Lively in University City.

BUSY WEEK PLANNED BY BOTH ELEMENTS

Superintendent Bunker Explains Why He Takes Side in Present Contest.

BERKELEY, April 15. — A busy week has been planned by both sides in the recall fight, several meetings having been arranged by both factions. The recall party has planned its meetings chiefly at schools, as follows: Tonight, Wilkins hall, Haste and Dana streets; Tuesday, Hillside clubhouse, Cedar street; Wednesday, Hawthorne school; Thursday, Jefferson and Oxford schools.

The incumbents' meetings will be as follows: Tuesday afternoon, Alta Vista apartments and 1534 Arch street; Wednesday afternoon, 2422 Durant avenue, Tuesday night, Claremont hall; Wednesday night, Lincoln hall; Thursday night, Athens hall; Friday night, Kellogg hall.

Superintendent of Schools Bunker has issued a statement giving his reasons for active participance in the campaign. It follows, in part:

BUNKER ISSUES STATEMENT.

"From the public platform and through the press I have gone on record asserting that a school superintendent should never take sides among competing candidates for places on the board of education except when he and the policies for which he stands are attacked.

"The matter now, however, is different. Two months ago I was informed that I was to be dropped because I was not satisfactory to the majority members of the board. This action was taken at a secret meeting, without a criticism ever having been made to me by those members; without their ever having offered a constructive suggestion wherein I could shape up the work of the department more nearly to meet their desires; without ever giving me an opportunity to defend myself or my methods against the charges which they say have been made against me, and without giving me, at the time, any reasons for their action beyond the general statement that my personality was not agreeable to them, and that I was not in sympathy with the socialist party.

"Because of this attack on their part and because of the fact that while, for political reasons, they have indorsed the policies which have been inaugurated, though at heart they seek their overthrow, I believe, I am forced from the neutral position which I have consistently held and am compelled to become a partisan in defense of the policies which have been inaugurated and of the candidates in this contest who are in opposition to the majority directors."

WILL RESTORE OLD LANDMARK

Native Sons Start Arrangements for Rebuilding Mission San Jose.

The restoring of the old Mission San Jose, in the lower end of this county, to its original state, was the principal topic of discussion at the meeting of the Alameda county delegates to the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West, held in Lincoln Hall yesterday. The matter will be taken up with the Grand Parlor, but, whether or not this body chooses to aid in the work, the mission will be restored.

A special fund for the rebuilding of the old landmark is to be started and at yesterday's meeting, Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, who is chairman of the Landmarks Committee of the order, was appointed custodian of the money.

The principal change to be made in the mission is the taking off of the shingled roof and the restoring of the old tiles. These were taken off because the supports, weakened by age, could no longer support them. The Dominican Sisters, who own the mission, have given the Native Sons permission to go ahead with the work.

The meeting yesterday was presided over by R. M. Hamb and delegates from Native Sons' parlors in the Mission San Jose district were present and spoke on the matter. Several other propositions to be laid before the Grand Parlor by the Alameda county parlors were also taken up.

The work on the restoration of the old mission will be started almost at once, the delegates to lay the matter before their respective parlors and gain a small appropriation to start the work. It is expected that the mission, when restored, will be one of the features of Washington township, and that it will attract scores of visitors. It will be open to the public.

Among those present from the Mission district were J. J. Donovan of Niles, Champion Stivers of Niles, Charles Cummings of Centerville, Frank Hawes of Centerville, Sheriff Frank Barnet and others.

Discussion of probable nominations for grand officers followed the Mission San Jose project.

Terrific Hitting by Oaks Before and After Lunch Brings Defeat to the Beavers

OAKS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF SERIES WITH BEAVERS

Great Hitting, Assisted by Great Pitching, Enables Sharpe's Crew to Make Record Eleven Straight

A. M., Oakland 9, Portland 2.
P. M., Oakland 6, Portland 4.

There's little use in telling you, gentle fan, but those Oaks made it eleven in a row, and unless somebody puts something in their teacups pretty quick it will be nothing but a big parade for the Coast League pennant with the Oaks so far in front that there'll be no interest in the race.

When the Oaks came back on April 2d and trimmed the Seals in the second game of the series the pessimists said something about luck. As the boys continued to wade right by the Seals those fellows began to look up to the Sharpe crew and this morning it is doubtful if we could find a fellow that was rooting for anybody but the locals.

As to yesterday's double header, it was the same old tale in the same old way. Oakland just leaned against the shoots and slants of the Beavers' box men and lambasted the ball to all corners of the lot. Had the ball been the peppery cork center one there is no telling how many bingles Sharpe's crew would have chalked up.

MARLARKEY IS IN FORM.

In the before-lunch session out at Freeman park every seat was taken and it was two bases into the outfields, so you can imagine the crowd. Bill Marlarkey was the Oaks' one best bet and he just wouldn't allow the Beavers the chance to break the winning streak. True, Mac's men gathered ten bingles but they were of little use. On the other hand, Oakland took to Koestner as on the day before and hammered him into the street clothes before he could say Jack Robinson. Then young Girot took a whirl at the "hitting demons" and while he weathered the storm, it was a rough passage.

Mr. Bert Coy seems to take a delight in pounding that ball into unknown regions. First he wallops one out to the big bull sign in centerfield and will get a $50 check for it. Then he slams one out of the lot over the left field fence. For the rest of the stars of the game, just look at the tabulated scores.

AFTERNOON GAME A HUMMER.

Over the pond, with nearly all of San Francisco looking on, Sharpe's crew made the Oakland fans feel bad for a few innings, especially in that sixth round, when the Beavers piled up three runs and made the tally sheet read Portland 4, Oakland 1. This woe didn't last many minutes and then the Oaks' followers got a chance to yell and how they did yell.

Cook started the last half of the sixth with a pole to left and Leard beat out a tap toward third base. Hoffman forced the second sacker at third and gloom was beginning to lay over the rooting section. Bertram Coy sent a ray of sunshine to the fans with a dandy to right and Cook registered. Elmer Zacher kept up his rep. and sent one to right that scored Izzy. When Hetling bingled to left, Coy got over to third, filling 'em up. Comes Bud Sharpe with the bases chucked and he cleans up for two with a liner to center. Big John, not to be outdone, combed one to left and Hetling was over. Ables fanned and Cook, up for the second time, went out on a grounder to second.

Seven dots the scorer put in the hit column and five dots in the run column. That tells the tale.

Here are the tabulated scores of the double-header:

HAPPY HOGAN IN FRONT BEFORE AND AFTER LUNCHEON

Tigers Play Angels Off Their Feet and Are Tagging Behind Bud's Crew.

LOS ANGELES, April 15.—Happy Hogan's Tigers won two games yesterday from the Angels, the cause thereof being Roy Hitt and an example of bush league playing on the part of Dillon's men.

The morning fracas resulted in a score of 4 to 0 and the afternoon contest, which was seen by about 12,000 fans, found the Tigers on the long end of a 6 to 4 count.

The excitement started in the second, when Metzger doubled and took third because the ball got by Stinson. Driscoll was out, but Smith singled, scoring Metzger. Reams drew a pass and Chech singled, bringing in Smith. Reams scored on Daley's fly and Heitmuller drove Chech home with a safe hit after Berger's hit and advanced the pitcher to third.

Raleigh stopped the carnage at this point. The Tigers got four hits in their half, but they netted only one run. Brashear and Stinson singled and Hosp hit safely, scoring Brashear. Burrell bunted and then ran past Laird on the line while Laird stood holding the ball to tag him. The bags were full with none down, but Brown popped out. Raleigh fanned and Carlisle flew to Daley.

The bush league playing on the part of the Angels was in evidence in the fifth, when Vernon tied the score.

The morning game was mostly Hitt. For five innings Leverenz blanked Vernon, but in the sixth Bayless scored on a walk, a sacrifice and a single, by Brashear. Hosp brought Brashear home with a safe drive. In the seventh Agnew walked, stole second and scored on Metzger's wild throw of Bayless' grounder; and a moment later Bayless counted on a double steal with Patterson, who had been hit by the pitcher.

Oaks' Record a Good One, But Seattle Had the Best

Several inquiries have been received by the sporting editor of THE TRIBUNE as to whether the Oaks have not established a Coast League record for the number of consecutive games won. The answer is no.

Back in 1903 the Seattle team, which was then a member of the Coast League, won nineteen straight games before meeting with defeat. In the same season the Los Angeles team won fourteen straight games.

At that, the record of the Oaks is a great one and the fans should be justly proud of the squad, for it isn't often that a team can start the opening of the season with eleven straight victories.

AROUND THE BASES

Yesterday morning's crowd at Freeman's Park was as large as on the opening day, at least 10,000 being present. The weather man forgot that he had threatened to bring out the sprinkler.

* * *

Zacher got a hand for his beautiful peg from deep center to third base, at the morning session.

* * *

Commander Sharpe came in for three cheers and much music of the palms when he came to bat early in the game. Roaring Bill Rapps seems lacking in vocal ginger this season.

* * *

Coy appears to have had it in mind to test the increased height of that left field fence at Freeman's. Besides putting the ball out of the lot, Bert doubled on a long one to the bull sign in center.

* * *

Why do the fans refer to the Beavers as the champions? Surely the particular bunch now wearing Portland uniforms never won a pennant in the Coast League.

* * *

Every time Bud Sharpe sends John Tiedemann into a game the big fellow brings joy to the fans with a good, healthy wallop. Yesterday the one he poled into the left field was as long a hit as ever seen on the grounds.

* * *

Cook played another fancy game around the short-stopping position and hit them when the bingles counted the most.

* * *

Zacher went to bat six times during the day and laced out three hits. He also played a clean, fast game in the outfield.

* * *

Hetling had eight assists in the game over the bay, but not a put out at third base. He gathered one timely hit.

* * *

Hoffman was the only Oak that didn't get a bingle in the afternoon session, but he scored a run which was just as good as a bingle, maybe better.

* * *

The first inning of the morning game was a blank for the Oaks in the hit and run column, but in the next four they gathered nine runs and nine hits, all to the sorrow of Judge McCredie.

* * *

Commencing tomorrow, Henry Berry and his pennant-chasers will be the opponents of the Oaks for a week, if the weather man keeps the rain away. Fans are wondering who will be the first to break the Oaks' winning streak.

* * *

Benny Henderson is billed to pitch the opening game at Portland tomorrow and don't like it worth a cent. He said yesterday that his arm was on the blink and he wanted a rest.

SEALS CONTINUE TO SHOW WEAKNESS IN PITCHING LINE

O'Rourke Men Bat Three of Long's Slabsters to All Corners of Park.

SACRAMENTO, April 15.—Before the eyes of Danny Long, who had journeyed here for the express purpose of seeing his Seals take the majority of games of the abbreviated series, the Senators yesterday afternoon carried off a 6 to 3 victory, making the series two all. The heavy hitting of the O'Rourke clan, coupled with their activity in taking advantage of every Seal bobble, gave them an easy win. The Seals as a whole played ragged ball.

The game was marked by heavy hitting that more than pleased an overflow crowd. Two home runs, one by Swain and the second by Jackson, three three baggers and five doubles represented a part of the long distance hitting. Difficult captures of the outfielders, and the clubbing of Joe Gideon, a Sacramento lad who has been showing class among the Seals, particularly pleased the fans. He gleaned three clean singles and sent Madden back to the fence to gather in a line drive.

The weakness of the twirling staff that Dan Long is carrying was demonstrated today when Miller, Noyes and Fanning failed to stop the Senators.

Big Cy Swain made himself solid with the fans by driving the ball over the fence in the third, scoring O'Rourke, who had doubled. In the fifth, Leads tripled and Heister singled him home and the same pair drove in the last run in the eighth off Fanning. Lewis got on through Fanning's error and Heister's hit to right, which caught McIver napping, went for three bases, scoring Lewis.

Arrellanes kept the Seals' hits scattered. In the fourth Hartley's double, Jackson's life on Lewis' error, and Gideon's hit to right only filled the bases. It took Corhan's fly to Madden to score Hartley. Hits by Rafferty and Corhan netted the second run in the sixth and Jackson's homer in the third and last in the eighth. The score:

YOUNG TOGO SHOWS FANS HE UNDERSTANDS BOXING

Conqueror of Bat Nelson Leaves Favorable Impression After Workout; West Oakland Card Looks Good

From the way the boys are shaping up in training there should be plenty of action for followers of the padded mitts at the West Oakland Club on Wednesday evening.

Young Togo, the sensational Jap, who will box the main event with Roy Moore, is putting in his best licks at one of the gyms over the bay and Trainer Eddie Robinson says that the boy will be fit and ready when the time comes to swap punches with his opponent.

The Jap impresses one as being a miller who likes the rough and ready style of fighting and mere boxing does not appeal to him. While small in size, Togo has a wonderful pair of arms and his reach is somewhat extraordinary for so small a man. Togo is quick on his feet and shows training at this branch of the game.

He has a peculiar style of boring in and will take a punch or more just to be able to land one. In his bout with Nelson, according to the ring experts, Togo fought the Battler at his own game and gave him as tough a time of it as the Dane cared for.

Togo stood up under the rain of blows that Nelson showered on him without flinching and every article bearing on the fight speaks in glowing terms of his gameness.

CLEAVER PROUD OF MOORE.

With all these press notices Charley Cleaver has confidence in Roy Moore and says that just as soon as the bout is over he will take his protege along the line and meet all comers.

Moore has shown much in his several bouts around the bay and is a willing, aggressive boy. One thing is certain, he will be in the mix ups with the Jap all the time and if the little brown man runs into one of those right swings of Cleaver's man it will be to dreamland for Robinson's bread winner.

The balance of the West Oakland Club's card should furnish plenty of excitement, with one four-round and three six-round bouts on the bills. All the boys signed up have been showing around the bay for some little time and in all their bouts have given a good account of themselves.

BURNS AND INDIES STILL TIED FOR SOCCER CUP

Teams Put Up Fast Game, But Neither Is Able to Score Winning Tally.

After an hour and a half of fast play in the final game for the Association cup at soccer football, the Burns and Independents were forced to cease play with the score two all. It was one of the best contested games seen around the bay in many Sundays and the large crowd on hand greatly enjoyed the sport.

The game was just ten minutes old when the Indies scored the first goal. The Burns had been charging their goal and threatening a score when the ball suddenly came out to Bill Aitken, who beat Selkirk to it, and when Marshall came out of goal Aitken shot a long one into the net.

Shortly after the Burns carried the ball close to the Indies' goal and only the great defensive play of Joss prevented a goal. Another rush on the part of the Burns resulted in the Indies putting the ball through their own goal, but the Burns were off-side and the goal was not allowed.

Play then shifted to the other end of the field and from a good center by Soldier Aitken, Jack Balmain scored. After Referee Askham had consulted the linesmen the goal was not allowed, as Balmain was declared offside.

Just before half time the Burns evened the score. Donahue passed to Halley half way up the field, and when Goal Keeper McGran ran out of goal Halley scored with a clean shot. Welsh nearly scored with a great shot, which hit the cross beam just as the whistle blew.

The teams lined up as follows:

COFFROTH TO STAGE BRITTON AND MOORE THIS MONTH

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Jack Britton and Pal Moore will make up the card of the Canal Club this month. So much was made known last night by Matchmaker Coffroth, when he announced that the men would battle in a twenty-round bout in the Eighth street arena. Many attempts were made to get "Knockout" Brown or Matt Wells to come to the coast and meet Britton, but they refused to leave the East. Mandot was also listed as a possible opponent of Britton's, but the New Orleans boxer has been booked for many bouts, which will not allow him to come west for some time. Moore is at present in Chicago and he will start for this city tonight.

CARROLL AND ATTELL TO BEGIN TRAINING THIS WEEK

SACRAMENTO, April 15. — Matchmaker Ancil Hoffman of the Capital Athletic club came back from San Francisco today with information that Abe Attell and Jimmy Carroll, who have been matched for 20 rounds before the club on April 23, will be in Sacramento this week to train.

PRETTY GIRLS IN COLUMBIA SHOW

"A Race for a Million" Is Dillon and King at Their Best.

A kaleidoscopic revue of prettily gowned girls, gorgeous scenery and stage effects together with funny comedians, amusing scenes and dialogue have much to do with the success of Dillon and King's latest musical offering, "A Race for a Million," produced for the first time in this city at the Columbia theater yesterday.

There was a bunch of jolly folk entered in the Marathon race for the golden shekels. It's a lively affair, this rollicking musical show, and comes near breaking the speed laws. There are plentiful dashes of good clean comedy and the tuneful musical interruptions throughout the skit are the latest shots from Broadway and of the catching variety.

The plot that comes to the surface here and there is a decidedly interesting one, if it is a bit complicated. There is an uncle, the kind that dies, leaving bushels of money and a will, the kind that makes the lives of the contestants unbearable. The will stipulates, clearly, too, that the only heirs, a nephew and a niece, must be married by a certain date, not far off, before they can claim the enticing million.

Friends of the nephew and niece knowing the conditions of the will start some strenuous love making, and an order of trouble on the side. Mike and Ike with the assistance of the village constable contribute their share of the fun and the race for the million ends with everybody happy, or nearly so.

AT THEIR BEST.

Dillon and King appear to advantage in their amusing characterizations of Mike and Ike and were responsible for most of the mirth provoking scenes that are plentiful in the comedy. A new soubrette made her initial bow to Columbia audiences yesterday in the person of Myrtle Guild. The part of Clara Cute was intrusted to her keeping. Miss Guild realizing the importance of her performance gave a clever and delightful rendition of the role.

She is a chic little person, a dainty dancer and sweet singer, possessing magnetism and personality. Another newcomer who made good yesterday was Manuel Snyder, playing Jack Sharpe. He is a splendid reader, and makes a fine, manly appearance. He handled very nicely the scenes in which he was involved and will no doubt prove a valuable addition to the company.

Charlie Reilly as the nephew and Maude Beatty as the niece gave clean cut performances of light comedy parts, while Frank Bonner and Hazel Gottung contribute largely to the success of the piece.

The musical numbers this week are tuneful and of high order. Miss Guild delighted with the Scotch song, "Bonnie, My Highland Lassie." Charlie Reilly scored with "B. P. O. E." the popular song of the Elks, and Maude Beatty did very nicely with "A Girl, a Night, a Moon." Mattie Townsend with the assistance of the chorus, pleases with, "Whistle, As You Walk Out." Several other numbers proved popular and were repeatedly encored.

The Ginger Girls are becomingly attired this week in several changes of pretty costumes while their songs and dances were loudly applauded. "A Race for a Million," will continue through the week with the usual evening and matinee performances.

Important Notice to Voters of Registration

Office of John P. Cook, County Clerk, Oakland, Alameda County, California.

Notice is hereby given that in accordance with the provisions of section 1094 of the Political Code of the State of California, all voters of Alameda County must apply for re-registration in order to be able to vote at the primary election to be held on September 3, 1912, and for the general election to be held on the 5th day of November, 1912.

Owing to the fact that there is no provision of law granting assistance to the County Clerk in the registration of voters, it is important that voters should apply for registration at once, in order to expedite the work.

Such re-registration began on the first day of January and will be in progress at all times until August 3d, 1912, for the purpose of enabling voters to qualify for the primary election, after which registration will again open and continue until October 5th, 1912, for the purpose of enabling voters to qualify for the general election to be held November 5th, 1912.

The attention of voters is especially directed to the recent decision of the supreme court, in which it is held that all voters must have registered this year in order to join in the signing of any certificate of nomination in behalf of any candidates for public office to be voted for at the primary election, to be held September 3d, 1912.

Attention is further directed to the following provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to registration:

Section 1097. No person's name must be entered by the Clerk unless:

1. Upon the production and filing of a certified copy of the judgment of the Superior Court directing such entry be made.

2. If a naturalized citizen, upon the production of his certificate of naturalization, which certificate must be issued ninety days prior to the succeeding election, or upon his affidavit that it is lost or out of his possession, which affidavit must state the place of his nativity, and the time and place of his naturalization, together with his affidavit that he has resided in the United States for five years, and in this State for one year next preceding the time of application, and that he would be an elector of the county, or city and county at the next succeeding election; provided, however, if such naturalized citizen shall have been previously registered as a qualified elector in any of the counties or cities and counties of this State, and shall produce a certificate of such registration, issued by the party authorized by law to issue such certificate, which shall recite the time and place of naturalization of such elector, such certificate shall be prima facia evidence of his naturalization. In the event that such naturalized citizen shall state in his affidavit that he was naturalized in the county or city and county in which he seeks to register, or in the event that he was previously registered within the preceding eight years within the county or city and county in which he seeks to register, and his certificate of naturalization has not been revoked, he shall not be required to produce his certificate of naturalization, nor to make such affidavit of lost certificate in lieu thereof, provided, however, that in any county or city and county where the affidavits of registration have been destroyed by fire or conflagration, or other public calamity, the above stated provision as to previous registration within the preceding eight years shall in such county or city and county, apply only for such number of years past as there shall exist a record of previous registration, and not to exceed in any event said eight years.

3. If born in a foreign country, upon his affidavit that he became a citizen of the United States by virtue of the naturalization of his father while he was residing in the United States and under the age of twenty-one years, and that he is or would be an elector of the county at the next ensuing election.

4. In all other cases, upon the affidavit of the party that he is or will be an elector of the county at the next succeeding election. Such affidavit must be made before the county clerk or officer charged with the registration of voters, or their deputy. If any elector is absent from the county in which he claims residence, he may appear before any judge or clerk of any court of record, or notary public, or if in a foreign country, before any minister, consul, or vice-consul of the United States, and make and subscribe an affidavit as to his residence, specifying in what ward or precinct he claims residence; that he will be necessarily and unavoidably absent from said county, or city and county, on all the days allowed by law for general registration of electors, and setting forth in such affidavit each and all the matters required by section one thousand and ninety-six of the Political Code of the State of California, and forward such affidavit, duly authenticated as above, by mail, enclosed in an envelope, addressed to the county clerk of any county, or the registrar of voters in any city and county. Upon receipt of such affidavit by such clerk or registrar of voters within the time allowed by law for registration, it shall entitle the name of such elector to be entered by the clerk in the proper register in such precinct.

5. In every case the affidavit of the party must show all the facts required to be stated in the entry on the register, except the date of the entry.

Further notice is hereby given that affidavits of registration must be sworn to before the County Clerk or his deputies and that they cannot, owing to the provisions of the registration law, be sworn before any other officer.

The office of the County Clerk will be open for registration until further notice from 9 o'clock a. m. until 5 o'clock p. m. of each day, except Saturdays, on which day the office will close at 12 o'clock noon.

Dated: March 11, 1912.

JOHN P. COOK
(SEAL) County Clerk.

MAY USE MONEY FOR THE RECALL

Election Expense Likely to Be Cause of Delay in Street Work.

An appropriation of $1400, recommended by Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus to aid the property owners of Ocean View Drive and of Forest street and Miles avenue in street improvements was held up by the city council this morning at the instance of Commissioner Fred C. Turner. Turner declared that should the expense of the proposed recall election fall within the present fiscal year there would not be sufficient funds for the improvement.

Unless the recall petition against Mayor Mott and Commissioners Baccus and Turner is filed within a week, the expense of the election will fall in the coming fiscal year, 1912-1913, and the street improvement in that case may be put through in this year's funds.

Baccus' report follows

To the City Council of the City of Oakland—Gentlemen: Proceedings have been carried to the point of receiving bids on Ocean View Drive, from Broadway westerly. This is in a deep rock cut, and a bid was received on the work at a price of $1.45 per cubic yard for excavation. This bid was rejected by the council as being too high. Proposals were again called for, but no bid has been received.

The street department during the past winter has been hauling dirt from excavations to fill over the culvert in the crossing of Forest street and Miles avenue, the persons making the excavation being required to load the material into the wagons. By this method a narrow roadway has been built across this fill on the line of Forest street. A suggestion has been made to this department that if the city will haul the material from the proposed excavation on Ocean View Drive, that we will be able to get a bid of about $1 per cubic yard for said excavation work, and the contractor will load the material into the wagons. This will mean a saving of about $1400 on the cost of the work to be assessed on the property owners in the vicinity of Ocean View Drive, and will furnish enough material to make the fill at Forest street and Miles avenue.

The estimated cost of such hauling is $1400, and I would recommend that the council appropriate out of the public betterment fund of this year such sum for this work. Very respectfully submitted,

(Signed) WM. J. BACCUS
Commissioner of Streets.

WILL PRESENT SCHOOL PLANS

Sketches to Be Submitted at Meeting of Board of Education Tonight.

At a meeting of the board of education tonight Professor John Galen Howard of the University of California will have preliminary sketches and plans for the Emerson school, to cost $160,000, to submit for the information of the school directors. Architects Walter D. Reid, Fred Voorhees and Sydney B. Newsom will also have preliminary sketches of the College avenue, Park and Division street and the Perry street schools.

Plans and preliminary sketches for the big stadium to be erected in the Washington school playground will be submitted from the office of the city architect. The plans show a stadium which will furnish accommodations for the school children, the playground directors and for others who will use the grounds.

It is the plan of the city architect's office to keep the members of the board of education notified of the progress of the development of the plans for the various schools in the city by the architects in charge. In this manner suggestions may be made from time to time for changes and improvements. Tonight the first sets of plans and sketches for the Washington school stadium, the Emerson school, the College avenue school, the Park and Division street school and the Perry street school will be presented for the information of the board.

NEW ENGLANDERS TO ORGANIZE HERE

Association Will Be Discussed at Open Meeting Tonight.

The formation of an Alameda county New England association, composed of natives or former residents of the six New England states, will be discussed at an open meeting tonight in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California and other prominet speakers will address the meeting.

The object of the association, which is being formed throughout the state as the California New England association, is the promotion of social intercourse and mutual benefit. The organization will be non-political and non-financial. The local meeting has been called by Edward P. F. Dearborn, a former resident of Oakland.

BANKER'S HOME LOOTED OF SILVER AND JEWELS

FRUITVALE, April 15.—A burglar entered the home of R. W. Westover, 3325 Fruitvale avenue late Saturday night and made his escape with several hundred dollars' worth of silverware and family jewels. Admittance was gained through the back hall door, the lock of which was broken off.

The burglar was frightened away by the next door neighbor who heard a disturbance and telephoned for the police knowing that the Westover family was away. The intruder was seen to leave the premises by Mrs. R. R. Stevenson. Westover is cashier of the Bank of Fruitvale, East Fourteenth street and Fruitvale avenue.

ARRESTED MAN VICTIM OF HARD LUCK STREAK

Habeas corpus proceedings were started to secure the release of Joseph Martolli of Alameda, now in the city jail there on a charge of selling liquor without a license. The man is accused of selling a demijohn of wine to a policeman.

Shortly after his arrest his wife was burned to death in a fire and his son had his foot crushed. The man was fined $200 in police court by Police Judge R. Tappan, but was unable to pay, and was sent to jail.

His attorney, John McVey, alleges that the man was jailed without the formality of an arraignment before sentence was passed. The proceedings are being taken in the superior court before Judge Ellsworth.

PAYS HIGH FOR POKER KNOWLEDGE

Vallejo Man Discovers That Four Aces Beat Four Kings.

The discovery that four kings may be beaten by four aces was made by Vincentio Pelochino of Vallejo, when he engaged two strangers in a friendly game of poker with the green sward on the shores of Lake Merritt as a poker table yesterday afternoon, and as a result of the discovery Pelochino is out just $650, comprising his savings for several years. Pelochino has asked the police to assist in finding the two strangers, whom he now believes to be bunko operators who robbed him by trick and device of his savings.

Pelochino alleges that he met the two strangers in a lower Broadway saloon. They told him that a little poker game would be a good manner in which the afternoon might be whiled away. He acquiesced and repaired to a local bank and withdrew his savings. He then accompanied the strangers to the green shores of Lake Merritt, where the three of them sat down to a quiet game. He charges that they spent much of their time in getting him drunk, after which they skillfully mulcted him of his money.

For the second time in two months the room of Charles Dingley in a Washington street hotel was entered early last evening and two suits of clothing and a kodak valued at $40 stolen. Dingley has reported his losses to the police.

A valuable gold watch was stolen from the home of Mrs. Alice Tarr, 331 Hillside avenue, last night. H. H. Weigart, of 7603 Hamilton place, has reported to the authorities the theft of a revolver and $3.50 in coin from his home. A thief forced a window fastening in the bedroom of E. G. Willis at 110 Seventy-ninth avenue last night and stole a purse containing $7.50

STAKE ASSURED AT BIG DERBY

Speculation Concerning Future of Kentucky Classic Set at Rest.

LOUISVILLE, April 15.—All speculation concerning the future of the classic Kentucky Derby was silenced by the announcement of Manager M. J. Winn of the Louisville Racing Association, yesterday that this year the event, as in previous years, is a $6000 guaranteed stake, $5000 of which goes to the winner. He also added that $5000 will be added to the Derby in 1913. With the entrance money added to the stake, the Derby hereafter will be worth no less than $10,000.

Horsemen had expressed concern over the event on account of the State Racing Commission's ruling, doing away with guaranteed stakes. In future fall meetings, the four-mile endurance stakes will be a feature. The association will give $5000 additional money to this stake.

RICHMOND MAY ANNEX PULLMAN TERRITORY

RICHMOND, April 15. — Petitions will be presented to the city council at its meeting this evening asking it to call an election for the purpose of annexing the territory known as Pullman, including the Pullman Palace car shops and the territory adjoining the city east of Twenty-third street, including the John H. Nicholl ranch.

The necessary petitions for the calling of an annexation election have already been circulated and sufficient signatures have been secured in the district it is proposed to make a part of Richmond. If the council, tonight, calls the election it is thought that it will carry with a big majority both here and in Pullman.

The action of the annexation people is taken at this time to prevent the leaders of the movement to incorporate a city of Pullman from taking in territory in their proposed town which would shut off the natural extension of Richmond eastward.

WHEAT PIT AGAIN HAS WILD SESSION

Violent Fluctuations Punish Both Sides of Active Market.

CHICAGO, April 15.—It was a wilder day in the wheat pit today than even during the worst of the crop scare last week. Fluctuations were more violent and punished both sides. Excitement started at once and kept at boiling point while transactions ran into an aggregate of millions of bushels. Countless reports of crop damage gave fire to speculators who believed the market was going higher despite the 10-cent advance which other traders, no less confident, thought fully discounted the injury.

Differences of opinion was so wide that the market at the outset varied from ⅝c lower to 1¼c higher, as compared with Saturday night. The sharpest price changes were shown in the May option. That month started at $1.10 to $1.11, an upward jump of ¼c to 1¼c, touched $1.11¾, dropped back to $1.07½, and then whizzed back to $1.10½. Meanwhile July twisted in bewildering fashion to $1.07, snapping from ½c below to more than a cent above the final figures of the previous session.

A subsequent rush swept May up to $1.11¾ and July to $1.08. The reason was found in detailed confirmatory telegrams concerning destruction of soft winter wheat in territory as far apart as Nebraska and Ohio. Soon, however, the market swung back on reports from Nebraska that the loss there was only 5 to 10 per cent. The close was unsettled, with May at $1.11, a gain of 1¼c over Saturday night, and July 1¼c up at $1.06@1.06⅛.

A spasm of weakness seized the corn market at the beginning, but soon it wheeled into line with the advancing tendency, which at the moment promised to rule in wheat. The leading bulls had apparently given their attention at first to the more expensive grain and had been caught napping, the benefit going to commission houses that had been heavy sellers. July opened opened ⅝@¾c to ⅞@1c down, at 78½c, declined to 77½c and then rallied to 78½c.

The close was weak; July, 1⅝@1⅞c lower at 77¾c.

Free unloading carried oats lower, but the offerings were promptly gobbled up and the market soon recovered. July started ⅛@ c to ⅜@½c cheaper at 54⅝c to 55c, and then turned upward to 55⅛@55¼c.

Activity and strength prevailed in the provision trade. Realizing of profits by longs, however, checked the rise, which was due to firmness at the yards and December corn.

Initial sales ran from Saturday's night level to 5c higher with September delivery $18.87½ for pork, $10.82½ for lard and $10.42½ for ribs.

N. Y. STOCK MARKET EXHIBITS STRENGTH

U. S. Steel Is Foremost in the List; Rise in Various Specialties Reported.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Before noon all adverse considerations seemed to be forgotten and the stock market continued its forward march with especial strength in the standard issues, foremost among which was United States Steel.

Numerous specialties participated in today's movements, including Sears-Roebuck, North American, American Linseed common and preferred, and American Beet Sugar, which rose 1½ to 5 points, while American Can extended its gain of the first hour.

Activity in American Can stocks was maintained during the noon hour, by which time the common had gained 8 points and the preferred 6¼. In conservative quarters the rise of these stocks was viewed with some misgivings, but these were hardly shared by the professional element inasmuch as prices elsewhere made further upward progress, virtually the entire speculative group selling well above last Saturday's best. New York Central developed renewed strength with a better tone to Missouri Pacific and other Gould issues in connection with the settlement of the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal litigation.

Although dealings shrank greatly, the advances were not interfered with, prices rising steadily so that many important stocks turned their early losses of a point or more into similar gains. Among these were Union Pacific and United States Steel. A long list of other issues were up from 1 to 6 points.

Late buying was particularly effective in Amalgamated Copper, L. & N., Pittsburg Coal preferred and American Can.

The market closed strong. The last hour brought no diminution of interest and prices of some issues, notably United States Steel, New York Central, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, St. Paul, Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific and other standard shares were at the top. American Can stocks increased their previously quoted figures and the list as a whole was moving in sympathy.

SETS ASIDE RECORD IN SENTENCING BEANE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Alexander W. Beane was sentenced by Superior Judge Lawlor this morning to five years in San Quentin prison for burglary. In order to give the accused this comparatively lenient sentence it was necessary for the court to set aside the record of a previous conviction. Beane broke into the home of Frank Vignoe, 381 Franklin street, on March 1.

SHOULDER BROKEN ON BIG ROULETTE WHEEL

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—Ernest Rice of 861 Hayes street had his left shoulder broken while whirling around on a human roulette wheel at Idora park, at a late hour last night, and at 2 o'clock this morning applied for treatment at the Harbor hospital. Rice, who is 20 years old, went to the amusement resort with several companions and admits that the accident was his own fault. They had been playing on the revolving platform and as he stood up he was thrown heavily. He felt some pain but did not know how badly he was hurt until he reached this side of the bay.

"I was the one to blame," he told Steward Nichols. "It was my fault that I got hurt."

BERKELEY SOCIETY

BERKELEY, April 15.—Mrs. George Jones with her two children are expected in Berkeley this week to make an extended visit at the Jones home on Kelsey street. Mrs. Jones will be very well remembered by a host of friends in Berkeley. She was Ruth Green before her marriage, a college girl and a Kappa Alpha Theta. Mr. Jones is with the Treadwell mine in Alaska and their home has been in the northern country for more than a year. Mrs. Jones is a daughter of Mrs. Adam Green, formerly one of the old families in Berkeley. Mrs. Green's home has been in Pasadena for several years with another daughter, Mrs. Howard Huntington.

At her home in Mill Valley, Mrs. Evan Foulds entertained Saturday for alumnae and active members of Alpha Chi Omega, of which she is a prominent member. Two score of guests were delightfully entertained at luncheon by the hostess. Mrs. Foulds was Leigh Stafford, a graduate of a year ago, and prominently known through her dramatic work.

Cards have been sent out by Mrs. Edna Snell Poulson of Snell Seminary for a large reception Friday, April 19. The affair is arranged complimentary to the faculty members and girls of the senior class, and the guest list includes alumnae and friends around the bay.

Alpha Omicron Pi has cards out for a large reception at the sorority house. Several hundred guests will be received by the active members of the alumnae, afternoon and evening of Tuesday, April 16th.

In honor of Wallace Sabin, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Sykes entertained half a hundred guests Friday evening at the home on College avenue. The musical is the third of a series which has been given this winter complimentary to local musicians. For two or three seasons past Dr. and Mrs. Sykes have arranged such a series. Among the contributors to the program last evening were Robert McGill, soprano; Miss Hibbert, soprano; Mr. Finney, baritone; Miss Maher, pianist; Miss Muriel Andrews, violinist, a pupil of Mme. O'Moore; Frank Wickman, pianist, and Dr. Sykes.

Miss Mabel Thayer Gray and Miss Dorothy Churchill left today for the east en route to Paris. Miss Churchill is to devote two years to voice culture, but Miss Gray will return in six months.

The men of the Friday Night Assembly entertained at Town and Gown clubhouse last evening at a charmingly appointed dance. This dance closed the season for the assemblies.

Miss Ruby Moore, a daughter of Mrs. Jessie Dean Moore, was one of the soloists last evening at the second annual concert by the choir of the First Baptist Church. Miss Moore rendered "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from Samson and Delilah.

ALAMEDA PERSONALS

ALAMEDA, April 15.—Mrs. McKee Sherrard entertained at luncheon at her home on San Jose avenue on last Saturday in compliment to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jesse Robinson. Mrs. Sidney Wilson gave a kitchen shower on Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Marion Rhoades, who is to be married on next Saturday to George Crawford Davis.

Miss Beatrice Putzman is entertaining Miss Grace Cambell of Eureka as her house guest. They will leave soon for San Anselmo. Miss Putzman's summer home, to be gone three months

Mrs J Balsh of Honolulu is the guest for a week of Miss Grace Buckley at her home, 1704 Central avenue.

Mrs. Frank Colburn and her two sons will make their home in Alameda. They were former residents here, but have been living in Boston for the last few years.

Misses Edith and Helen Whitfield entertain at luncheon at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, on April 20, in honor of Miss Amy Swayne. The guests will attend the matinee later in the afternoon. Miss Swayne will be married the latter part of the month to Henry Miles.

INVASION OF WEST PLANNED BY I. W. W

Oakland on List of Cities to Be Mobbed by Industrial Workers.

NEW YORK, April 15 — John Walsh, organizer of the greater New York district committee of the Haywood branch of the Industrial Workers of the World, has announced that the organization was preparing to send committees, in many instances of 1000 men each, into cities throughout the United States where vigilance committees had been active in driving I. W. W. organizers out of town. He said that 600 men already were on their way to Spokane, Washington, and that similar committees would be sent to Fresno, Oakland, Los Angeles and San Diego, California, to Missoula, Montana, Kansas City, Vancouver and Aberdeen Washington. Jack Mosby, a son of the famous Confederate leader, will lead the Los Angeles committee, said Walsh.

He announced also that the I. W. W. was planning a strike of 60,000 textile workers in New England and 30,000 in New Jersey as a protest against the "suppression of free speech," as Walsh characterized the refusal of the Garfield, N. J., authorities to allow strikers to meet there.

An appeal will be made to Governor Wilson first, and if he fails to act the strike will be started. Walsh said, the I. W. W. also demanded that its organizers who have been jailed in New Jersey and New England be liberated.

LABOR QUESTION UP TO OFFICIALS

Chicago Man Says Government Must Solve Employment Problem.

CHICAGO, April 15.—James Mullenbach, former head of the Municipal Lodging House and new superintendent of the United Charities of Chicago, told the members of the Women's Trade Union League last night that the question of employment would eventually have to be solved by the federal government.

"After careful study of the class and character of the patrons of the municipal lodging house," he said, "I found that less than one per cent are vagrants. The great majority are migratory laborers."

The speaker deplored the fact that there is no scientific information in this country regarding the definite volume and nature of employment.

HUNDRED LIVES IN PERIL.

CHICAGO, April 15.—A gas explosion which endangered the lives of more than 100 workmen wrecked the power house of the Illinois Steel Company's South Chicago plant yesterday, causing a property loss of more than $100,000. Reports of fatalities in the accident were denied by officials of the steel company.

Boy Drops From Landing to Tile Floor; Breaks Leg Only.

CHICAGO, April 15.—Richard Pickering, 9 years old, while visiting at the home of a boy friend last night on the north side fell from a third floor landing fifty feet onto a tile floor. At the second floor his head struck a railing and on the first floor his leg hit a radiator.

He lay still for a minute, then smiled and rose to his feet. Several occupants of the building who heard the lad's cries and the crash ran to his aid. They offered to carry him home but he insisted on going unattended because he didn't want to frighten his mother. A physician after a careful examination said a bone in the right leg was slightly fractured and that this was the only injury.

ROBBERS LOOT DENTAL PARLORS.

WATSONVILLE, April 15.—Part of a gang of robbers which has been operating in many of the cities of the state Saturday night entered the dental parlors of Drs. J. W. Cutler and H. B. Rodgers and secured gold valued at over $100. No clews have been found as to the identity of the burglars. The same night the offices of Dr. Ray Moad and Dr. H. J. Gray of Santa Cruz were looted in the same manner.

WHITE PLAGUE AT BLACK LIST'S HEAD

Bureau of Vital Statistics Show Percentages of Occupational diseases.

SACRAMENTO, April 15. — The first general report on deaths by occupations, under the new law passed at the 1911 session of the legislature calling for the mention of the dead person's occupation in all death certificates, has been made by George D. Leslie, director of the State bureau of vital statistics. It covers the 5408 deaths in San Francisco of persons over 15 years of age during 1911, out of which 3196, or 59.1 per cent were among men and women employed in gainful occupations and 2212, or 40.9 per cent without gainful occupation.

On the 3196 reporting occupations, the men numbered 2986, or 93.4 per cent and the women only 210, or 6.6 per cent. Of the 2212 without occupation, 470, or 21.2 per cent, were males and 1742, or 78.8 per cent, females. Many women, doing merely house work and not earning money thereby, were not mentioned in the "gainful occupation" class.

The 2986 male dead for whom occupations were reported are classified as: Manufacturing and mechanical industries, 740 or 24.8 per cent, laboring and servant, 62 or 20.8 per cent; transportation and other outdoor, 594 or 18.4 per cent, mercantile and trading, 313 or 10.5 per cent, clerical and official, 275 or 9.2 per cent; professional, 142 or 4.8 per cent; all others, 339 or 11.4 per cent.

"The relatively poor men reported as laborers or servants," says Leslie in his report, "show a very high mortality from tuberculosis, no less than 22.0 per cent of those men succumbing to this disease, as compared with the general average, for all the deaths, of 15.8 per cent.

"Men engaged in transportation (sailors, teamsters, railroad men, etc.) show a large proportion of deaths from violence, the percentage of violent deaths for this class being 11.7 per cent, against an average of 8.6 for all men at work.

"Merchants show relatively many deaths from cancer (11.5 per cent, against the average of 7.1 per cent), heart disease (26.2 per cent against 23.4 per cent); Bright's disease (9.6 against 8.6). Clerks show many deaths from diseases of the digestive system (5.7 per cent, against an average of 7.3 per cent)."

SUTTER BASIN TO BE RECLAIMED BY FRENCH

SACRAMENTO, April 15.—Although the big deal for the reclamation of the Sutter basin has not been closed, cablegrams of encouragements have been received in this city and those interested have every reason to believe the project will be undertaken by French capitalists. It is expected that word will be received shortly giving notification for the work to proceed.

The proposed reclamation district to be formed will contain 60,000 acres in the Sutter basin, now overflowed every year, and it is as rich as any soil in the valley. It is proposed to reclaim the vast district by the construction of great levees. It will require at least two years to complete the work after it is started.

Many Sacramento capitalists are interested in the Sutter basin lands, and if the reclamation is undertaken by French money it will be the means of distributing many thousands of dollars among the local land owners.

TWO KILLED IN RAID AT BISHOP

Constable and Chinaman Shot to Death; City Marshal Is Wounded.

BISHOP, April 15. — In an attempt to arrest Gee Yong, a Chinese restaurant keeper suspected of selling opium and whisky to an Indian woman, Walter Reed, a deputy constable, was mortally wounded and Yong was instantly killed, while Douglas Robinson, the city marshal, was shot through both legs.

Early yesterday the officers saw three Indian women enter Yong's place and decided to place him under arrest. They found all doors locked, and, being refused admittance decided to break in. Robinson handed his gun to Reed, who was unarmed, and told him to break in the door while he went to the rear of the building to prevent anyone from escaping that way.

A moment later, hearing shots, Robinson rushed into the room and found his friend lying on the floor. Yong stood in the doorway of an adjoining room with a revolver in each hand. As Robinson entered the Chinese fired. Two shots struck the marshal, one in each leg. In spite of his wounds and in the face of the rapid fire from the Chinese's guns, Robinson ran across to where Reed lay, picked up the revolver which had fallen from his hand, and shot Yong three times through the body. Reed died at noon from the effects of his wounds. He was shot through the stomach.

Yong was known as a bad man by the Chinese of this section, and has been in trouble before. He came here about a year ago, and is said to have smuggled his way over the Mexican border. It is believed that he shot in the belief that the officers were employes of the government seeking to have him deported. Reed leaves a wife and four small children.

WARDEN LEAVES; CONVICTS WEEP

New Jersey Prisoners Say Tearful Farewell to Geo. O. Osborne.

TRENTON, N. J., April 14. — Fourteen hundred convicts in the New Jersey State prison made a singular request yesterday when they asked to be allowed to bid farewell to Principal Warden George O. Osborne, who left his post yesterday after a service of 10 years at the prison and who retires from active life after a service of almost 50 years in penal and charitable institutions.

The request was granted and the convicts were lined up before the retiring warden. No. 1001 was spokesman and he expressed the gratitude of his fellow prisoners for humane treatment they received at the hands of Osborne, who was one of the first prison keepers in the country to abolish the lock step, the striped uniform and the closely shaven head system.

There were tears in the eyes of many of the hardened convicts, and No. 1001, a notorious convict whose name the prison authorities withheld, actually cried when he said:

"By your going from this prison we not only lose a kind warden but a friend who knows that, despite our faults, we are just as human as those you meet in the world we have been barred from. By your actions you have daily let us know that you did not consider us brutes who are to be only treated with contempt.

"You have always given us good advice, and when we came to you with our petty troubles or important affairs concerning our loved ones or our futures you have aided us in every way possible. Hundreds of former inmates here are today enjoying healthy prosperity on the outside who would have ordinarily followed the path of evil had they been subjected to inhuman or brutal treatment by you. May God bless you and deal with you in the future as mercifully as you have dealt with us."

The big warden was much affected, and his voice, usually strong and commanding, trembled as he parted with the convicts. Osborne left for St. Petersburg, Florida, where he will make his home.

RARE MOUNTAIN SHEEP FOUND IN CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, April 15.—State Treasurer Roberts and a friend have made a discovery that adds greatly to the game products of the state. During a recent visit to the mountains of San Bernardino county, 300 miles from a settlement and far out in the desert where a white man seldom ventures, they found a band of mountain sheep fully 300 strong.

They were big fellows and exceedingly wild. An application was made to the authorities to kill a few specimens, but this was absolutely refused. The discovery is considered an important one, as it was supposed this variety of game was almost extinct in America.

PHELAN IN PAJAMAS FIGHTS MORNING FIRE

SARATOGA, April 15.—James D. Phelan, millionaire and former Mayor of San Francisco, arose with the larks at his country home at Bonnie Brae yesterday clad only in his pale blue silk pajamas and fought a fire that had started in the roof from a defective flue.

For a while it looked as though the cottage was doomed to destruction, but with the assistance of a bucket brigade of orchardists and wealthy suburban residents, the blaze was subdued and Phelan returned to his slumbers.

"JOHN D." IN A NEW ROLE.

TARRYTOWN, N. J., April 15.—J. D. Rockefeller helped out his neighbor, [illegible] Butler, at Eastview yesterday, when Butler's cottage caught fire. The oil king sent his fire company down from Pocantico Hills when the alarm was sent out. It succeeded in putting out the fire after [illegible] had been done.
